The Oak Street school building is a veritable beehive these days with more than 100 children ranging in age from four to 12 years learning Bible stories through talks, slides and films and learning to share with others by making scrapbooks and other gifts which will be sent to the City hospital and a mission field in Japan

The school is a summer project of the Business and Professional Women's club and the first of its kind to be sponsored in the city by a service club. It is non-sectarian, with children from the immediate community enrolled Plans for the project were launched by the club early this summer and the school got under way June 7 Sessions will close Friday with an informal program during which children having perfect attendance records will receive recognition. Parents of the children will join them for the occasion. The faculty will meet for a picnic lunch Friday

The school has an enrollment of 110 children with an average daily attendance of 90 Classes begin at 9 a. m. and end at 11 30 a m. Monday through Friday and during this time there is a worship period with slides and films, and there are Bible stories, music, crafts, games and hikes. The children have made scrapbooks to be given to a crippled child in the city and also to be sent to the City hospital for the children's ward, and one to be sent to a Japanese missionary in the field. Two framed pictures have been purchased by the children to be placed in the children's ward at the City hospital and another achievement is the building of a Nazareth village with Hebrew characters.

Miss Lydia F. Ebel, former supervising teacher of week-day religious education for the public schools, is the director of the school. The following make up the staff Miss Sylvia Frew and Miss Ruth Drollinger, beginners; Mrs Nancy Williauer, Miss Maxine Cashell, Miss Margaret McMillan, primary teachers, Mrs Bertha Sorgen and Miss Ruth Metz, junior teachers and Miss Mary Queen, music instructor Miss Mary K. Miley is president of the sponsoring organization.

In addition to the school program there was a picnic held on the school lawn Tuesday with milk furnished by the Business and Professional Women's Club

GOP PLATFORM WORK STARTS

Race Issue Injected as Delegate Calls for Southern Representation.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 17—The race issue broke in the Republican platform committee today as a delegate from Texas protested that no southerner had been assigned to the subcommittee that will write the GOP plank on civil rights.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, Tex., arose in the committee session to tell Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., that "the South is more interested in this question than anything else." He demanded that a southern delegate be put on the civil rights committee

Lodge, a Massachusetts senator told the 104-member platform group that it was in order for members to swap their committee assignments if they desire

Mrs. Agnes Jones Gifford of South Orange N J immediately announced that she would yield her civil rights committee post to Bullington The Texan then was assigned to this committee and Mrs Gifford took his place on the subcommittee dealing with economics and small business.

This dramatic development occurred shortly after the platform committee had organized electing Lodge as its chairman and designating nine subcommittees to conduct hearings on party platform planks

When the morning committee session adjourned Bullington told reporters it is time the South became a two-party country and we don't want to keep pulling Democratic chestnuts out of the fire"

He told newsmen emphatically he opposes the FEC (fair employment practice committee) and anti-lynch legislation.

FEPC, he said 'is not constitutional," and as for anti-lynch laws, he declared 'We don't need them We have no lynchings any more"

Anti-lynch laws would "harm the colored people" he asserted

Bullington insisted that 'both sides" be heard on the civil rights question, saying that this had not been done at some previous Republican conventions.

A group of Republican women proposed a foreign policy plank supporting the United Nations and declaring the GOP favors "the U S joining the union of the western European states."

GERMAN STATE PLAN GETS FRANCE'S OK

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 17—The national assembly reluctantly approved today a six-power agreement to set up a semi-independent government in western Germany. It tacked on six conditions intended to guarantee French security Premier Robert Schuman had only eight votes to spare on the final count—300 to 286, with 26 abstentions—after bitter debate in which his government was accused of failure to defend the national interests of France The Communists and the far right joined in the fight against the government on the issue.

French approval was the final one necessary to start the new German plan rolling. The other five governments involved—Britain, the United States, Luxembourg, Belgium and The Netherlands—all gave their okays previously.

Atomic Lab Dispute Over Wages Settled

By The Associated Press

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 17—A three-months labor dispute was ended last night when Atomic Laboratory workers voted to accept a new work contract calling for an average of 13½ cents an hour wage increase

The contract with increases ranging from 6½ to 40½ cents for IUT employes of Oak Ridge national laboratory was ratified at a union meeting by a vote of 271 to 60.

FOREIGN AID HEADS FOR FINAL SHOWDOWN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—The multi-billion dollar Foreign Aid program headed for a final showdown today

A senate-house conference committee was called into session to decide how much the United States will spend to help 16 European nations, Japan, China and Korea on the road to recovery

A lively verbal fight appeared certain before the conferees emerge with the finished bill—a compromise between the sharply conflicting senate and house versions. Each chamber still must ratify the conference report but with the rush to adjourn congress Saturday this becomes a mere formality.

The house took the administration's proposed $6,532,710,228 program, spread it from 12 to 15 months, and in effect whittled off about 1,433,800 000 Also the house inserted several restrictions on how the money was to be spent.

The senate took a very different view of the foreign needs. It changed the program back to 12 months and restored an estimated $1,175,000,000 of the house cuts, in addition to knocking out some house restrictions.

FRENCH TOWNS HIT BY SURGE OF STRIKES

By The Associated Press

PARIS, June 17 — More than 25 towns have been hit by a surge of strikes snowballing across France and there are indications that 100 000 Frenchmen will be off the job by tonight

At least 50,000 workers were idle yesterday, most of them in sympathy with strikers at Clermont-Ferrand, who were tossed out of a tire factory yesterday morning by police and state troopers Acid sling-shots to throw ballbearings and rubber clubs made in the factory were used as weapons in the bloody fighting there

First evidence that the strike wave is reaching Paris came last night when 4 000 railway workers at Villeneuve-Triage staged a 30-minute sympathy walk-out The town is 10 miles from the French capital

Similar demonstrations were staged at Colmar, at the textile mills of Rosne and at the government arsenal at Limoges

In Marseilles 5 000 metal workers quit work. The strike began as a sympathy demonstration but grew into a demand for a 20 per cent wage increase

The strikes also spread through the towns of Tarbes, Belfort, Metz, Strasbourg, Saint Eloy, Brassac, St Etienne, Angers, Quimper and Douai

Birth at Akron Called "Scientific Wonder"

By The Associated Press

AKRON O., June 17 — A girl baby developed in its mother's abdomen outside the uterus was hailed as a "scientific wonder" by physicians here today

The child, weighing four pounds 13 ounces, was delivered Tuesday in Akron city hospital by means of a Caesarean operation.

Physicians, who would not allow their names to be used, said the case was believed one of 60 known to medical history and the first here in which the child survived.

A. & P. TO OPEN STORE IN CITY

Block-long Property Acquired on North Main Street for New Building.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co today announced plans to return to Marion in a new store to be built on North Main street.

The new super market will be opened at 486 North Main street, north of Mark street, early next fall, it was announced today by E. R. Ellsworth of Columbus, A. & P. operating manager for this district.

The super market and surrounding parking lot will be one city block deep, running from North Main street through to North Prospect street. The front of the store will face North Main street. A building of cream tile and brick will house the market. Inside dimensions of the new store are length 140 feet 10 inches, width 70 feet four inches giving the store an outside frontage of 80 feet and a depth of slightly over 150 feet The store front will be 22 feet high with the roof 13 feet. The building will be set on a lot with a frontage of 132 feet on both Main and Prospect street with a lot depth of 246 feet.

Large Parking Space

After completion of the building the surrounding area of the lot will be blacktopped for parking space to accommodate 150 cars

The building will be erected and owned by the Knowlton Construction Co of Bellefontaine It will be occupied by the store under lease Work will start early next week The cost was estimated by R. A. Stough, Knowlton Construction Co agent, at $25,000 when he applied for and was granted a building permit yesterday by Mrs. Mayme Gorton, city clerk Plans for the new building have been approved by state building authorities in line with city requirements, Mrs. Gorton said.

The Knowlton firm is primarily a contracting and construction firm, Mr Stough said today, and they are building this building to specifications provided by the A & P He affirmed Mr Ellsworth's statement that construction would start as early as possible next week and the tentative completion date of the building is set for sometime in September

The A & P store formerly was on South Main street in the building now occupied by Sears Farm Store The company withdrew from Marion at the expiration of its lease in March, 1947 Since that time negotiations have been in progress here to relocate with a new store. Difficulty in finding a site of suitable size close enough to the business district, with enough space for adequate parking of customers cars, further delayed the return of the A. & P store.

Henry F Drake of 325 North State street, Marion real estate dealer, completed arrangements for purchase of the new store site by the Knowlton Co The property formerly was two separate lots, each measuring 132 by 173 feet. The half of the plot fronting on North Main street was owned by T R Summons of Mansfield, a former Marion resident. The plot fronting on North Prospect street was owned by the William Kramer estate Mr Kramer was a member of the city planning commission prior to his death.

ON GOP COMMITTEE

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 — Members of the resolutions committee for the Republican national convention include two Ohioans, Gov Thomas J Herbert and Margaret Baker of Springfield

STASSEN SAYS HE'LL BE THIRD ON 1ST BALLOT

But He Is Confident of GOP Nomination by Ninth Convention Vote.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA June 17 — Harold E. Stassen conceded today he will be third man on the first presidential nominating ballot at the GOP convention opening here Monday

But the former Minnesota governor told a news conference shortly after his arrival he remains confident he will win the nomination by the ninth ballot.

"I am here to lead the liberal and younger forces of the Republican party in a fight to win," Stassen said

"I expect to be in third place on the first ballot and in first place on the last"

Stassen said he thinks it is "a close question" whether Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York or Sen Robert A Taft of Ohio will be in the lead on the first convention roll call

Stassen was asked how he views the possible candidacy of Sen Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. Vandenberg is being boomed in certain quarters as a dark horse candidate in the event of a deadlock

"I consider Sen Vandenberg to be one of the outstanding statesmen of the Republican party, Stassen said

"I make no attempt to anticipate what his moves will be in this convention"

Says He'll Get Maine

Stassen poked at Dewey's recent invasion of Maine with the assertion that he, and not the New Yorker, will get the majority of Maine's presidential votes.

Stassen was asked if there is any truth in rumors that he might accept second place on a ticket headed by Taft. He said that since he first developed delegate strength, rumors had linked him with almost every rival in the field

"I continue to be a candidate for the presidential nomination and will be when the roll is called at the convention," he declared

Close associates of Senator Vandenberg said unless he changes plans, he will permit the presidential voting to take its course without any statement from him

Vandenberg's position in the nominating contest was among the principal topics of conversation as delegates moved in for the 23rd try of the Republican party to nominate a president

Amid indications that Gov Dewey generally is looked upon as the man to beat, delegates clustered in hotel corridors to talk about the threat that Vandenberg poses as a dark horse

From a person close to the Michigan senator it was learned that Vandenberg has adopted a let's-see-what-happens attitude toward the balloting, which may begin next Wednesday or Thursday.

This person, who declined to be quoted by name said the Michigan senator feels he has done everything possible to discourage his nomination He has said publicly—and privately to picked audiences—that he does not want the honor and doesn't expect to get it.

Says Vandenberg "Available"

But Gov Kim Sigler of Michigan said at the governors' conference in New Castle, N H he is convinced Vandenberg is "available for the nomination

Vandenberg was said to feel that the campaign for a draft movement has gone so far that he cannot now cut the ground out from under those who are in the forefront

A case in point, cited by the Michigan senator's intimates, is Gov James H. Duff of Pennsylvania.

Duff has not made any secret of the fact that he is for Vandenberg and wants to swing the 73-vote Pennsylvania delegation to the Michigan senator after a few favorite son votes for Senator Edward Martin

Vandenberg personally pleaded with Duff several weeks ago not to adopt this course. But the Pennsylvania governor went ahead.

Now Vandenberg is said to feel that, though he has discouraged the movement, he cannot with good conscience leave Duff high and dry by any further statement of his position.

Congress Overrides 3rd Veto; Sets New Record

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 17 Congress made history today by passing major legislation over President Truman's veto for the third time in four days

The No. 3 bill is one letting railroads make rate agreements of a kind now barred by anti-trust laws.

The house vote was 287 to 102. This was 31 votes more than the two-thirds needed to make the measure law over Mr Truman's objections

Final action was completed by the house The senate overrode the veto 63 to 23 yesterday

Congressional officials said three vetoes slapped down within a week is a record not equalled by any other congress

Previous Votes Killed

Earlier this week congress knocked down vetoes of a social security bill and an appropriation bill transferring the United States employment service from the labor department to the federal security agency Both now are law, along with the railroad bill

The railroad bill says railroads and other surface carriers cannot be prosecuted under the anti-trust laws for getting together and making agreements on rates and fares, provided the agreements are approved by the interstate commerce commission The ICC is the government's agency for regulating railroads

When Mr Truman vetoed it, he called the bill "inconsistent" with a "vigorous anti-monopoly program

Social Security Change

Last Monday the senate and the house put on the law books over the President's objections a social security bill which Mr Truman claimed would bar 750,000 persons from old age benefits.

Yesterday the two branches nullified his veto of a $973,914,780 appropriation bill which the President rejected because it transfers the United States employment service from the labor department to the federal security agency

OHIO SENATORS' VOTES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17 — Ohio's Republican senators, Robert A Taft and John W Bricker voted with the majority yesterday as the senate overrode President Truman's vetoes of the Bulwinkle bill and a measure putting the U S employment service under the federal security agency

Maurice Clements Named New Marion Co. Auditor

Maurice C Clements, 54, of LaRue, a Republican, was sworn in today as County auditor following his appointment this morning by the board of county commissioners.

Deputy county auditor since January 1938, Mr Clements will fill the vacancy created by the death Sunday of Harry V Mounts, who had held the office for 18 years.

The appointment until a successor is elected in the general election in November Mr Mounts' term was to have expired Jan 7, 1951.

Mr Clements indicated today he would run for the balance of the term He was given the endorsement of the county GOP executive committee at a special meeting last night and will likewise have the committee endorsement as candidate for the unexpired term in November, Committee Chairman Marion E. Hinklin said today

Under Ohio election law applicable to the situation which has arisen here the office is to be filled at the next general election providing the vacancy does not occur within 90 days prior to the election date

Provision of Law

The law provides that both political parties may certify to the board of elections a candidate for that office, such certification being made by the party executive committee The election board certifies candidates named to the secretary of state for inclusion on the ballot at the November election

Russell M. Wilhelm, county Democratic committee chairman, indicated today that although his party would have a candidate in November the executive committee was not yet prepared to make its endorsement.

George L. Conroy, Democratic candidate for county auditor at the last election declined to comment today on whether or not he would run again, indicating that as yet he had not been approached by party leaders. Mr Conroy now is serving as a deputy sheriff.

Was Bank Cashier

A native of Montgomery township, Mr Clements operated a 200 acre farm, which he still retains, until 1907 when he became associated with the LaRue Banking Co He served with the bank as cashier until 1923

Prominent in the community, Mr Clements served as mayor of LaRue in 1935-36, and is a member of LaRue Lodge 462, F and A. M the LaRue Businessmens Association and of the Methodist church, serving on its official board and as finance committee chairman.

No immediate plans for the administration of the county auditor's office have been made, Mr Clements indicated. The present staff will continue and includes Deputy Auditor C W Altfitt, Clifford P Swisher, bookkeeper, Mrs. Mary Eloise Furnis and Mrs. Margaret Howard, clerks.

ERIE ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS SELECTED

Two eWin All-Expense Trip to New York City.

County winners in the essay contest for high school students, sponsored by the Erie railroad Co. in cooperation with the Marion Chamber of Commerce, were announced today. They are Betty Parsons, daughter of Mr and Mrs J. S. Parsons of 176 Kensington place, and David E. McWhorter, son of Mr and Mrs. Earl McWhorter of 913 Barks avenue The winners will be guests of the railroad company on an all-expense weekend trip to New York City July 16, for having written what was judged to be the best essays on the subject "Men of the Erie," based on a history of the Erie Railroad

Miss Parsons, 17, was a junior last year at Harding High school, and Davis, 14, was a freshman at Thomas A. Edison Junior High school last year

There were 28 entries in the contest judged by Don A. Howard, Charlton Myers and Bernard C Moloney The judges were appointed by representatives of the public, parochial and county schools.

In making the announcement of the winners the judges states they experienced great difficulty in deciding the winner, the quality of all the essays being uniformly high.

"The contestants are to be commended particularly in that the time alloted for the preparation of their essays was limited and came at the end of the school year The names were entirely eliminated from the essays submitted and the judges only knew the entries by a number," the judges said

The winners will join approximately 60 other boys and girls from other cities in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana, all winners of similar essay contests. While in New York they will visit many places of interest, tour the city and enjoy a boat ride.

PEACE TALKS SCHEDULED

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, June 17—Count Folke Bernadotte took off for Tel Aviv today to talk with Israeli leaders about permanent peace plans for Palestine. The first week of a 28-day armistice ends tonight. Bernadotte, mediator for the United Nations, has been talking with Arab leaders here for the last two days.

EX-BUND LEADER, FRITZ KUHN, CAUGHT

By The Associated Press

MUNICH, GERMANY, June 17—Fritz Kuhn, German-American bund leader, was recaptured today, Munich public safety officials disclosed.

Kuhn escaped from the German internment camp at Dachau under mysterious circumstances Feb 4. The camp director, Anton Zingelbl, was dismissed as a result.

Kuhn had been awaiting trial before a German denazification court. He was convicted in absentia April 20 and sentenced to 10 years at hard labor as a "major Nazi offender"

Kuhn was captured in the French zone town of Bernkastel, near Trier, by German police.

Bugging was arrested when he applied for a chauffeur's license.

FOES IN HOUSE SEE CHANCE TO BEAT MEASURE

But Backers Predict Passage of Selective Service by End of Day.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 17—The house draft bill, already drastically revised, headed into more trouble today

Opponents said they have "an outside chance" of beating it; supporters predicted it will be passed before the day is over, but the day may be a long one.

In two tentative decisions yesterday the house voted to cut the term of draft service from two years to one and to junk plans for a special registration and draft of medical men Both actions may be subject to later roll-call votes.

The tallest remaining hurdle appeared to be a proposal by Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) to pass the bill but put off any actual drafting at least until after Jan 31, pending a stepped up recruiting drive.

This plan has the support of rules chairman Lee E. Allen (D-Ill) and Rep Hansen (R-Ind), both of whom oppose the draft and have been critical of Army recruiting activities.

Shafer spent yesterday buttonholing house members, and told reporters his plan 'has a very good chance' of being adopted. It probably will come to a vote late in the day

Foes of the two-year draft revival measure were jubilant after the house voted 150 to 66 to cut the period of service from 24 months to 12 The amendment was sponsored by Rep Coudert (R-NY), and drew enthusiastic support from both Republicans and Democrats.

Shafer Hopes Raised

Rep Short (R-Mo), who has been leading opposition to the bill, said, "now we've got an outside chance to beat it."

The Coudert amendment can be put to the test of a roll-call if Chairman Andrews (D-NY) of the house armed services committee chooses to demand separate ballots on amendments put into the bill by voice, standing or other unrecorded votes.

The house was tense as the Coudert proposal came to the floor Member after member rose to speak, most of them in favor.

Andrews tried to get the decision postponed until today, but his effort was swamped, 139 to 76. Debate continued, although the outcome was no longer in doubt

Opposes Crippling Change

The members did quiet down, however, to listen to Rep Kilday (D-Tex) make a final appeal for defeat of the amendment He urged them to vote against the bill, if they chose, but not to "cripple it" by reducing the term of service to one year

The house quickly disposed of a substitute amendment by Rep. Fulton (R-Pa) to put the period at 18 months, then put the Coudert amendment over with a whoop.

When the house bill is passed, it will go to a conference committee to work out differences between it and the bill passed by the senate last week The senate bill calls for two years' service, and Coudert told the house 18 months would be a logical compromise.

As yesterday's debate started, the house tentatively accepted a "pull-the-trigger" amendment by Andrews It would postpone inductions until the President proclaimed that the Armed services cannot get enough men voluntarily

75-Day Wait Stipulated

The President could not issue the proclamation until 75 days after the bill becomes law A similar provision was voted down in the senate

Then came the decision to drop the special registration and draft provided for physicians, dentists, veterinarians, osteopaths, pharmacists, and optometrists. The bill would have allowed drafting past of these professions up to 46 years old.

Andrews told reporters he believed his presidential proclamation amendment had sidetracked Shafer's plan for a longer delay, but Shafer did not agree.

Wholesale Food Price Index Near Record High

By The United Press

NEW YORK, June 17 — Dun & Bradstreet announced today that its wholesale food price index rose to $7.19 in the week ending yesterday, the highest level since Jan. 30 and only 1.6 per cent under the all-time high of $7.32 established on Jan. 13.

The index, which represents the total of the price per pound of 31 foods in general use, compared with $7.11 in the preceding week, $7.30 in the week ending Jan. 13 and $6.20 in the same week last year.

Prices of 12 foods advanced, while five declined and 14 remained unchanged.

RITES FOR SYCAMORE VETERAN SATURDAY

Pvt. R. D. Klaiss Returned from Iwo Jima.

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, June 17—Funeral services for Pvt. Robert Duane Klaiss, U. S. Marines, killed in action at Iwo Jima Feb 23 1945 and returned to the United States for final interment will be held Saturday. Rites will be at 2 p. m. in the church at Benton near Sycamore by Rev. H. A. Hess pastor. Burial will be in Green Lawn cemetery at Tiffin. Friends may call at Mayes funeral home Friday afternoon and evening and the body will be removed to the church Saturday at 1 p. m. American Legion Post No. 250 of Sycamore will be in charge of military services at the graveside.

Pvt. Klaiss was born April 5 1926 in Crawford county, a son of Harold Klaiss and Evalyn Mesmaro Klaiss. His parents survive and now make their home in Tucson, Ariz. They resided in and near Sycamore until about five years ago when they moved west. Mr. and Mrs. Klaiss are now in Sycamore for the services and they plan to spend the summer here.

The body of Pvt. Klaiss arrived in the United States from the Pacific theater on March 18 and in Sycamore on May 19 and was held here until arrival of the parents. Temporary burial was in a cemetery on Iwo Jima.

Pvt. Klaiss enlisted in the Marines at Houston, Tex. Jan. 31 1944. He received his basic training at San Diego, Calif., and left the states for overseas duty July 7 of the same year. He was 18 years of age at the time of his death. Pvt. Klaiss attended Sycamore High school.

Surviving with his parents are four sisters, Mrs. E. R. Dunlap of Bloomville, near Sycamore, Mrs. Harley Yunt of Tucson, Ariz., and Margaret and Kay at home, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. U. Z. Wickham of Sycamore.

SCOOTER FATALITY STIRS BUCYRUS CITY COUNCIL

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 17—Prompted to action by the recent fatal motorscooter mishap and several other accidents of a less serious nature involving scooters, Bucyrus City council Tuesday night urged the traffic commission to make a study of regulations for the two-wheel vehicles with a view of assuring greater safety.

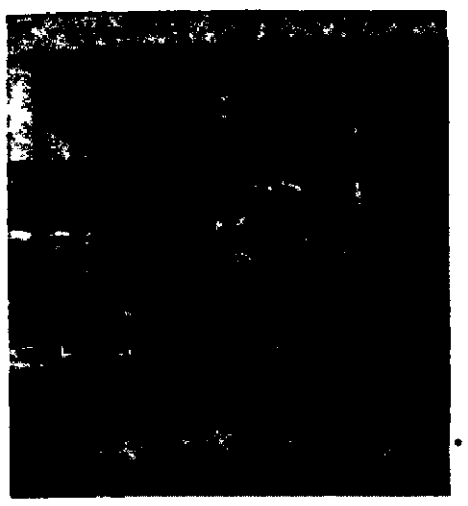
Safety Officers Charles Ghist reminded council of the state-issued restricted license" measure which restricts the use of motorscooters by minors to daytime hours and for emergency usage. Pleasure riding and night usage by persons under 18 is unlawful under the present law, Lt. Ghist advised.

In response to council's action Bucyrus police department impounded three scooters Wednesday, all of which were being operated without license, and by minors. The vehicles will be held until claimed by the riders parents, Police Chief Arthur Stuckert said.

NEW LOADING RECORD SET

CLEVELAND, June 17 — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company exceeded all its previous daily coal loading records Tuesday with the loading of 6,433 cars. This was 13 more cars than the previous record of 6,420 cars established May 25, 1948.

Marion Man Wins "Idea" Recognition



ERIE "IDEA" SCAFFOLD IN USE

A suggestion to use an adjustable scaffold for painting and stenciling railroad cars, brought recognition to an Erie employee here in the current issue of the company magazine for employees.

Under the ideas section of the June issue of "Erie" Walter Everly, 54 of 340 Grant street is given recognition for his recommendation to use an adjustable scaffold with greater ease and safety. Advantages of the scaffold are said to be that it can be set at convenient working heights, thus eliminating body strain.

Mr. Everly has been a carman here for 34 years, joining the Erie in 1914. A photo of his helpful idea in action is shown on the idea page.

The man on the scaffold doing the stenciling works on the side of the hopper car in the above photo is not Walter Everly however it is his brother, Alfred, 57 of Route 3, Marion who also has 34 years with Erie to his credit. Both have been employed in the car division here since coming with the railroad.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"MADGE," my husband's voice said as he answered my call so promptly that I knew he had been waiting beside the telephone.

"Yes. The coast is clear. Come on down."

"Immediately," he said and I hung up the receiver.

"They're on their way," I said.

"That's good," he commended. Then he began to speak rapidly. "All the plans are made for the publicity for the house party which will camouflage the secret wedding," he said. "Philip will attend to it and will acquaint you with all the details. I haven't time. Olga wishes to see you as soon as possible to talk over the decorations and the food and the clothes which are to be worn. I gather that I shall have to dig out my white tie and tails."

"You won't have much time," he said, "for I want the publicity to come after we arrive safely at the farmhouse. Philip will arrange for that. But we must be ready to start for the farm day after tomorrow, in the afternoon."

I caught back a gasp of dismay which would have done no possible good for I know from experience that my father's edicts are like those of the old Medes.

"We'll be ready," I said bringing out the assurance from some as yet unplumbed depth of energy.

"I know that my darling," he said and Dicky's knock punctuated his sentence. The next second Faith was in his arms, swinging all over him, and the smile on her face was no broader than the one on that of her grandfather.

"I promised you ten minutes," he said "and because of the cooperation of the grown-ups I'm going to be able to keep my promise."

He looked over at me with twinkling eyes.

"I suppose you're substituting 'because of his slave-driving tactics,'" he said, and I could not keep a flush from my face. Dicky gave a short laugh.

"Caught her that time, Dad," he said. "But I have something most important to say to you alone, a message from K.' But it will take less than a minute if you can come down to my room with me."

My father's eyebrows started to contact into a frown. Then they relaxed again.

"I'll give you two minutes," he said, "right now. And I will not take time from my darling here."

He put his hand on Faith's sunny hair and put her down from his lap. Then he rose to his full height.

"You're going to have your full ten minutes," he told her. "I'll give scant measure to somebody else."

Knowing that the "somebody else" probably was a most important personage I realized anew how great is the devotion my father gives his idolized granddaughter, doubly dear because she is named Faith, for my mother, from whom he was separated so tragically at the end of her life, but who always has been, save for a short, flaming, desperate interval, the love of his life.

"I am at your service, Richard," he said, and the two men went out of the room and down the corridor to Dicky's bedroom, closing the door behind them as they entered it. I could hear the key being turned in the lock, and wondered what was the important message at which Dicky was the bearer.

It did not make sense to me. Mr. "K." knows that I am my father's confident. I did not believe that he would send a message to my father through Dicky alone without including me in its delivery unless there was some special danger threatening me. A chilling thought came to me, a fantastic explanation of this conference but I had no time to indulge in any conjectures. Faith was "strictly on the job."

"Mummy," she asked, "We're all alone, aren't we? Was that a message from Mr. K. to Granddad, something hush-hush?"

Marion Area Reserves To Hold Contact Camp

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the contact camp to be held by reserve officers of the Marion area June 26 and 27 at the Marion Engineer Depot, it was announced today by Captain John B Weaver, unit instructor here. In addition to being the first contact camp to be held here it also will mark the first time reserve officers in the Marion area will receive pay for attending a reserve function. A great deal of interest is being shown by officers throughout the area and it is expected between 200 and 250 officers will be in attendance

A command post exercise is being formulated by Colonel Hubert L. Taylor, Inf-Res., assisted by Colonel R E Copeland, Inf-Res. (reserve officers of Marion) Colonel H B Eagon, M I-Res., Delaware. Lt Colonel L R Larson, QMC-Res., Marion, Lt Colonel J F Dutro, DC-Res., Marysville, Major D A Colbert, SC-Res., of Marion.

Two-Day Schedule

The schedule for the two days is as follows Saturday, June 26, 12 noon to 2 p. m., sign-in and billeting, 2:30 p. m to 5 p m CPX, "Dorsano", commanded by Col H L. Taylor, 5:30 p m, retreat, in charge of Capt John P Lawrence, of Marion 6 p m to 7 p m dinner cooked by T Sgt Russell Herriott and his crew of regular army soldiers 7:30 p m smoker with the usual club activities followed by a dutch lunch at 8:30 p m

Sunday, June 27 reveille, in the Army manner at 6:30 a m., breakfast of ham and eggs at 7 a m followed by movies at 8:30 a m on the 57mm and 75mm recoilless rifle shown by T/Sgt Richard Garver at 9:10 a. m., a demonstration of 57mm and 75mm recoilless rifle conducted by T/Sgt Russell Herriott and his crew, and from 10:15 a m until 11:30 a. m. a tour of the Marion Engineer Depot will be made This will be followed by a hidden dinner

To Construct Bridge

Following the dinner, Lt Wayne Snow and members of the 497th Engineer Depot Co sponsored by the Marion Power Shovel Co, will conduct the building of a Bailey bridge. The reserve officers will actually construct the bridge on a site provided by the commanding officer. Col H L Robb of the Engineer Depot

A short critique will follow at 2 p m ending with dismissal of officers First Lt Byrdell Whitteridge of Tiffin, will coordinate movements of the contact camp assisted by Capt R. In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THE Democrats and Republicans are going to promise you, the voter, a lot of things this year

They'll do it in their party platforms, carefully worded and worked out in their conventions at Philadelphia this summer They'll say

"Here are the things we'll do or try to do in the next four years if you elect us to run the government."

James Marlow

Already Republicans are budging to manufacture a platform to dazzle before the voters of their convention which opens June 21

The Democrats you can be sure, will put in a lot of work on their platform before they unveil it at the Democratic convention July 12

But if history is any guide to the future a lot of those promises won't be kept No matter which party is elected in November

If you doubt this just look for instance, at the promises the parties made in their Chicago platforms of 1944

The two platforms differed a bit

For one thing, the Democrats' was fairly short the Republicans' very long and detailed

Maybe the Democrats thought they could be brief and still be sure President Roosevelt was still alive in 1944 and pretty sure of reelection.

The Republicans, out of control since 1932, took a lot more time in hammering their platform together

Right here a Democrat or Republican may jump up and say "Look here Don't blame my party for failure to keep its promises The other side blocked us."

BUT THE POINT IS that both parties in the four years since 1944 have had an equal chance to make good bargains—

From 1944 until 1946 the Democrats ran congress. The Republicans have been running it since 1946

The voters don't often get such a chance to point a finger at both parties equally and say "why didn't you deliver?"

For in other years one party usually controls congress a full four years and must take blame or credit for what's done or left undone

Some of the 1944 promises were kept For example

Both parties promised to put this country into a world organization to keep peace They worked together and put us into the United Nations.

BOTH PARTIES PROMISED an income tax cut, and taxes were cut True it was the Republican - controlled congress which rammed through a big cut over President Truman's veto.

The President argued that he wanted to cut taxes but in a different way

Both parties said they wanted to see an independent Jewish state in Palestine (President Truman recognized the new Jewish state, without any say-so from congress.)

But there were plenty of things both parties promised but didn't do. For example

Civil rights. The Republican platform very specifically promised action on wiping out the poll tax passing an anti-lynching law and setting up a fair employment practice commission.

The 1944 Democratic platform, far more vaguely, suggested doing something about civil rights meaning more civil rights for Negroes.

(The southern Democrats were pretty touchy on this issue in 1944 so the platform vagueness was an effort to appease them.)

BUT, VAGUE OR DEFINITE, no civil rights law has been passed since 1944.

The Democrats very carefully said they "recommended" action to get equal rights for women. This hasn't been done

The Republicans promised to bring under the benefits of social security all those people not now covered They haven't done it.

Both parties promised—in an extremely vague way—to do something about letting Hawaii and Alaska become states. That hasn't happened.

Some of these promises made for the four years following 1944 probably will appear again in the 1948 platforms Some of them may even pop up again in 1952

Drollinger Reunion Held at Parish House

New officers were elected for the coming year at the forty-second annual Drollinger reunion held recently at the St Paul Parish House. Officers are president, Donald Howel; vice president, Gerald Fields, and secretary and treasurer Miss June Graham. Forty-seven members were present, and it was reported that no deaths had occurred during the 1947-48 year. Oldest member present was Willis Bilger 84 and the youngest Beverly Ann Tanner 2 months, daughter of Mr and Mrs Louis Tanner.

Pleasant Twp. Group To Visit Ohio Farm

The Pleasant township farm and shop group again has made arrangements to make a tour of an outstanding Ohio farm to learn about new and better ways of farming.

The tour will be Sunday June 20, on the farm of C D Blaugh at Danville O. Last year approximately 125 people from Pleasant township visited Louis Bromfield's farm, Malabar near Mansfield, O.

Mr Blaugh, on land similar to Bromfield's, in 1946 netted $27,000 on 35 acres. He was chosen recently as the farmer representatives from the United States to Europe where he checked on the relief shipments to that country.

All farmers in the Pleasant community are invited to attend the tour. Those planning to take part are to meet at the Pleasant school at 11 a m Sunday or at the Blaugh farm at 1:30 p m. The tour will be under the supervision of Dallas Cornett, vocational agriculture instructor at Pleasant school.

Tea Leaves Are More Reliable

POLITICAL speculation is fine, sturdy, upstanding sport, enjoyed by the young, the old and the middle-aged. But when it comes to finding out what's going to happen in politics tea leaves are more reliable.

Right now speculators are giving off speculations at the rate of one a day. If they were all put in one bag they'd lift a balloon into the stratosphere. All this comes under the heading of good fun, with certain notable exceptions. This is why the exceptions are notable:

They are intended to deceive the public and to influence the delegates to the national convention—both national conventions. Fun is fun, but not everything done in the name of fun is funny.

There's nothing funny about some of the attempts to get bandwagons rolling for this or that candidate. It isn't funny when writers with access to public attention pretend that they know absolutely what's going to happen in the convention. They don't know. There have been relatively few conventions, except those which renominated men already in office, when anyone knew what was going to happen. That isn't the way conventions are.

No one objects to speculation for speculation's sake. But speculation for the sake of fooling people is highly objectionable. From now until the last state delegation is recorded in the last roll call in the Democratic national convention next month, beware of speculators who make unequivocal statements.

This Could Be a Fad

WILLIAM AUFULDISH, the fire captain of West Carrollton, O., has broken the ice in what might become a fad. Peeved at the going-over he was being given by hecklers during a warehouse fire, he took off his fire hat, stamped on it and resigned.

Among others who must get fed up with the going-over they are supposed to take cheerfully from hecklers are school teachers, public officials, policemen, baseball players, umpires and committee members. With rare exceptions, they are doing their best, sometimes on niggardly pay kept that way by the hecklers who make life miserable for them, sometimes on no pay at all. But regardless of what they're getting out of it, or whether they're getting anything except grief, they're supposed to be sweet and reasonable about the jeering and sniping of anyone caring to exercise the inalienable American right to jibe and boo.

Perhaps the right really is inalienable. If so, there is a corresponding right to do something about it, the right exercised by Capt. Aufuldish when he walked off the job. The story from West Carrollton does not say that the hecklers promptly pitched in and did a better job. They never do. They can't.

Court Martial Reform

AMONG the measures still pending in congress is the court martial reform bill passed last Jan. 15 by the house. One of the reasons for the senate delay is the proposal, approved by the house, to make the judge advocate generals department, the Army's legal branch, independent of field commanders.

The house added this provision to the bill on the recommendation of the secretary of war's civilian committee of lawyers. It is opposed by Gen. Eisenhower, former Secretary of War Patterson, himself a lawyer and former judge, and virtually all the top Army men.

The purpose of the change is obvious. Field commanders have frequently dominated the judgment of courts martial, ordering them in effect to return directed verdicts. In the eyes of the military, to deprive a commander of control over his troops is to weaken his authority. The Army maintains that military justice must also take into consideration the morale of the service and that what might be considered a severe sentence for a civilian would be justified in the case of a soldier who, given a light sentence, might prefer to serve it rather than risk his life in battle.

To veterans and civilians not eager to see field generals continue as courts of last resort, the question naturally arises: why can't a trained military agency not subject to the whims, prejudices and caprices of field commanders dispense justice while being solicitous of the service's morale?

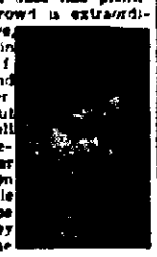
Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Overdoing the "One World" Doctrine.

I HATE to use round terms, but there is a crowd in this country whom their opponents call "the internationalists." This crowd loves the world and would absorb the United States of America into it by draining off the wealth of this country, leveling downward the standard of living of its people, exporting its precious raw materials until it has to import what it once had plentifully. This crowd is extraordinarily active, rich, strong in ownership of publications and eager for power.



SOKOLSKY

Once they put over Wendell Wilkie, who one-worlded all over the place. Then when Willkie ceased to be available, they took up a fine and active young governor, Harold Stassen, and projected him for four or five years until they wore him out and made him politically unacceptable to his party. In between, they picked up Dr. Dwight Eisenhower as a Republican and stirred up so much antagonism to him in the Republican party that he became a favorite among the Democrats.

So the "internationalists," having pretty well confused everybody including themselves, decided that their best hope would be Senator Arthur Vandenberg. They dropped Harold Stassen, whose campaign had already cost them a fortune, but they pulled out Eisenhower again—this time not as a candidate but as a whip.

Plan of Attack

This is the gag. They tell Republicans that they must drop Dewey, Taft, Stassen, Martin and everybody else and take Senator Vandenberg. If, so they put it, Senator Vandenberg is not accepted by the Republicans, they will get the Democrats to drop Harry Truman and accept the recent Republican, Dwight Eisenhower. In a word, they are blackmailing the Republicans to accept their most recent favorite.

I wish to interject into this story the sentence that I do not believe for a moment that Senator Vandenberg is a party to this trickery. I am sure he has never given his consent to such crude maneuvering.

However, that is the game that is being played and everybody is now cognizant of it and it has been discussed in greater detail than I give here—also with plenty of names of the brilliant minds at work—in all the necessary quarters, even by and among candidates who have undoubtedly taken the appropriation measures to safeguard themselves against blackmail.

What it amounts to is this: There can be little question but should Dewey and Taft deadlock each other, a strong movement will develop after the third or fourth ballot to nominate a compromise candidate. Until the "internationalists" butted into this situation, it looked very much as though Vandenberg would be that compromise. For several weeks, that seemed to be the consensus although in several quarters Speaker Joe Martin, Jr. and John Bricker were being considered as possible compromises to offset Vandenberg.

Forces at Work

Meanwhile, all the "internationalist" magazines weekly and monthly, and the associated columnist and commentators began to talk of Vandenberg who had not even declared himself as a candidate as inevitable. They particularly emphasized a difference of opinion in the Pennsylvania delegation, which this year is crucial, giving the impression that Governor Duff would support Vandenberg, which came as a shock to the Dewey and Taft contingents in that state. After investigation, both the Dewey and Taft people discovered that these accounts of raucous goings-on in Pennsylvania did not alter their original estimates. Both groups believe that they will do well in Pennsylvania; neither expects Vandenberg to get much there.

But the whip is Eisenhower. The Republicans feel that the election is sure because anybody can lick Truman in 1948. But not anybody can defeat Eisenhower, even if he runs not as a Republican but as a Democrat—that is, unless it is planned to have one of the smearliest campaigns ever known in American history. So the "internationalists" spread the tale that a rampaign of Vandenberg vs. Eisenhower would be very gentlemanly, with the foreign policy not discussed and the two candidates all but kissing in public. The symbol would be "me too."

So that is the set-up of the moment. And nobody likes it because it may mean that the Republican convention will be too hot in too hot weather. The sentiment is growing for a short convention.

Fear in France: II

By Stewart Alsop

PARIS

A RECENT episode helps to explain the profound sense of insecurity which underlies the current bitter wrangle in the French assembly over the six-power agreement on western Germany. The incident followed a now familiar pattern. An official of one of the Soviet satellite countries, who had just returned from a pilgrimage to the Kremlin, obligingly offered to describe his visit to a French diplomat. He had conferred at some length with the Russian chiefs, the satellite official told the Frenchman, and they had assured him that their one desire was peace.

ALSOP

The Russian leaders had also asserted, however, that one development would leave them no choice but to order the Red army into action. That was the rearmament of western Germany by the Western powers. Moreover, the Russians had clearly intimated, they were inclined to consider the establishment of a government for western Germany as the first step toward German rearmament.

This conversation was of course reported back to the French foreign office, as it was intended that it should be. Its meaning was perfectly clear — beneath the facade of the Soviet peace offensive, a grim warning to the French. The episode occurred before the end of the six-power London conference on western Germany. Yet French Ambassador Rene Massigli, acting on instructions from French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, agreed to the establishment of a western German government at Frankfurt. In that sense the no doubt carefully rehearsed warning from Moscow failed.

Result Accomplished

Yet in another sense, this example of the well established Soviet technique of bullying has no doubt succeeded. For it has aggravated the French fear of a war in which the French would be powerless to protect themselves, a fear which is the most striking feature of French political life today.

One reflection of this profound feeling of insecurity is a French proposal which has recently been forwarded to the American and British governments on the initiative of French Premier Robert Schuman. The French have proposed a joint demarche to Moscow by the three Western powers. The three powers would again assert that the Soviets are free to join their zone of Germany to the three Western zones, and would repeat that the formation of a western German government implies no threat whatsoever to the Soviet Union. The dual purpose of this demarche would be to placate both the Kremlin and French public opinion, which has undoubtedly been deeply disturbed by the agreement on western Germany.

Possible Conditional Acceptance

Much will depend, of course, on the resolution of the French crisis which is now in progress, but it is believed that the American and British governments are considering accepting this French proposal, on three conditions. One is that the note be sent to Moscow only after all the governments concerned have approved the agreement reached at London. Another is that it be made clear to the Kremlin that no further conferences, on the futile pattern of the past, are contemplated. And a third condition is that under any circumstances the Soviets should have no part in the management of the Ruhr.

It is extremely unlikely that any real Soviet-western agreement could result from such a move. Yet it might help to reduce the growing French fear of a Soviet armed assault on the West. More formal American commitments to France and to Western Union, on the lines of the Vandenberg resolution, will also certainly in part dispel French doubts of the dependability of the United States as an ally in the struggle between East and West, doubts which the meat-axing of ECA appropriations has brought to a head.

Basis of Fear Unchanged

Yet the plain fact is that the fear which hangs like an almost visible cloud over this lovely city, as to a greater or lesser degree over every city in western Europe, cannot really be dispelled by placatory notes to Moscow nor by American assurances. For the fear springs simply from the conviction that the Red Army at the word of command from the Kremlin, could push to the Atlantic in a matter of weeks. While this conviction persists, the fear will persist.

Soviet Indicates Shift To Asia

By Walter Lippmann

THE Soviet government usually changes its diplomats when it is preparing to change its policy and it is, therefore, interesting that the new Soviet ambassador and the new Soviet delegates at the UN are both specialists in Asiatic affairs.

It may be significant that the arrival of the new diplomats and the so-called peace offensive in Europe should coincide with a marked decline in the fortunes of governments and parties in Asia which are associated with Britain, the United States, and the western world.

LIPPMANN

Thus, it is becoming ever more improbable that Chiang Kai-shek can unify China. There is no certainty that native nationalism in Indonesia, Indo-China and Burma, perhaps even in India and Pakistan, will not turn increasingly to Moscow rather than to London and Washington, for guidance and support. And in the Middle East, neither in Egypt, Iraq, nor Syria are the governing classes, upon whom London has depended, secure against a rising discontent.

On the other hand, the signs are multiplying that the Soviet Union is disposed to recognize that for the time being at least Europe cannot be absorbed, and that an accommodation is necessary if the Soviet Union is to retain an important influence in the future of Europe.

The Czechoslovak coup evoked a more important reaction—namely, American rearmament—than the Kremlin or the Cominform appears to have anticipated. In the cold war for the mastery of Europe the Czechoslovak affair appears to have been the Battle of the Bulge. It has been followed by a policy of appeasement to Finland, Romania and Hungary; by a reduction of the pressure against Greece; by a reduction of the demands on Austria and in Germany by cat-and-mouse tactics designed, it would appear to avoid a showdown.

The crucial question is whether Stalin is testing out a new policy, namely, appeasement in Europe, while nature, assisted by Moscow, takes its course in what were once the realms of empire of the western world. One can say no more than that this is a very plausible theory.

It is consistent with what is now happening—namely, the current peace offensive in Europe—combined with what is happening in China and southern Asia.

Way To Turn

It is consistent also with the historic pattern of Russian policy, which is, when repulsed in Europe, to expand into Asia.

It is consistent also with the Marxian dogma that the victory of communism will follow the collapse of capitalist imperialism. In Asia the capitalist empires are in fact being liquidated, and it may well be that Stalin, who has always had great respect for American capitalism, who has always been very conscious of Asia, has come to think that Asia, rather than America and the west, is the place where the Marxian prophecy will first come true.

If the hypothesis—that is all it is—is correct, the task of western diplomacy on the one hand is to press forward toward an all-European peace and, on the other hand, to work out new ways of preserving legitimate, beneficial and profitable western interests and influence in Asia.

The right response to Stalin's European peace offensive is, it seems to me, to grasp the nettle firmly by asking him what are the terms on which he will agree to the evacuation of Europe and will permit the whole continent, including all the German states, to work out its own economic and political destiny. If he will not agree to that, if the terms he sets for withdrawal are meant to be unacceptable, then it will be plain to Europe that he is not seeking peace but is conducting psychological warfare.

No Test of Policy

But Stalin's intentions cannot be tested, as President Truman's advisers seem to think, by dealing with secondary issues. Nothing less than a full disclosure of his intentions toward Europe as a whole will do. And that full disclosure cannot be made in words but only by acts, of which the ultimate and decisive act could only be the retirement of the Red army from the Elbe, 500 miles back to the frontiers of the Soviet Union.

The working out of a new policy in Asia is a very much more difficult thing. We have to recognize that the liquidation of great empires means the destruction of authority that is not easily replaced, and the release of passions which are not easily disciplined.

Two Made It

Only two vice presidents who succeeded to the presidency following the death of an elected chief executive in this century have been able to win election in their own right.

Four vice presidents tried it in the 19th century and failed. Harry Truman is the seventh to seek the big prize. The four vice presidents who lost it were John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson and Chester A. Arthur. The two who won it were Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge.

In all the contests, third parties and party breaks, like the one that has split up the New Deal coalition, were disastrous to the vice presidents wanting to be president, just as today they threaten Mr. Truman.

Happiness can be built only on virtue, and must of necessity have truth for its foundation.—Colerus.

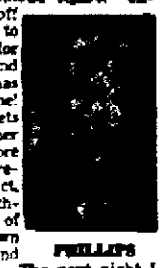
The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Televisionics Anonymous"

Elmer Twitchell is forming a new society. It is to be called "Televisionics Anonymous," and its work will be the rescue and rehabilitation of people who can't keep away from those taverns and barroom video screenings of ball games, fights, etc. There is great work to be done.

"The 'televisionic' is a pathetic figure," explained Elmer. "He starts off by dropping into a saloon to see one inning. He stays for a second and a third. And before he gets through he has taken in an entire ball game.



PHILLIPS

"These cafe television sets exert a wide influence," Elmer continued. "More and more saloons are serving video returns with the drinks. In fact, few up-to-date bars are without television. I was one of the first addicts. I went down to Hanrahan's for one beer and a screening of a pole vault. The next night I went down to see an ice-skating contest. The following night I was there for a prize fight. Before I knew it, I couldn't give up the stuff."

"The beer and liquor?" we asked.

"No, the video," he replied. "But, of course, I had to buy a drink every little while out of appreciation."

• • •

"Do they make you buy a drink if you stop into a bar to watch the television returns?" we asked.

"Not openly," said Elmer, "but you know how it is. Every few minutes the proprietor doesn't give you a hint, but now and then, you feel like a cheapskate if you avail yourself of the premises and don't drink a thing."

"But why not just one or two short beers?"

"All beers are short beers these days, and you can't sit down at a table and watch a fight or a ball game if you only spend twenty or thirty cents. So a man drinks more than is good for him. It all depends on the screen event and on the way the saloonkeeper acts."

Elmer paused a moment and continued.

"A weak character will get pretty well boiled if the fight goes a fifteen-round limit, or if he stays for the whole game," he went on. "Guys who never did much drinking are going home loaded now. They have become televisionics. My heart goes out to them."

"How do you propose to save 'em?" we asked.

"Well, in my own case I was able to taper off. I put myself down to four videos a week where I had been taking five or six. Then I got down to six and finally to one. But a lot of fellers can't do this without help. The purpose of Televisionics anonymous is to aid them before they go to perdition through liquor and broadcasts."

We asked Elmer why he hadn't solved his own problem by putting a video in his own home.

"Man, are you nuts?" he replied. "That's worse than the barrooms. Everybody for miles around drops in and the drinking get unanimous'."

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: Have you ever stopped to think how little we really know about the other fellow?

I've been amusing myself with some speculation on this subject the last few days. Take the president of the United States, for example—any president. We think of him as being preoccupied with big thoughts and schemes, but the chances are he is chiefly concerned with the same things we are.

He thinks about the necktie he will wear, how he is going to look in the pictures somebody's always asking him to pose for, what he is going to have for lunch, the arthritis that nags him, his checking account and what made his wife snuff at something he said about her hat.

All the time he is listening with a solemn expression to some weighty problem he is letting his thoughts wander back to his happy boyhood when he didn't know there was such a thing as a stuffed shirt or a pressure bloc. He is wishing he could take a nap on the davenport, nip a bottle of cold beer out of the refrigerator or prop his feet on the table, light a cigar and listen to the ball game.

He is no different from anyone else in wishing that the people who pester him would fall dead. He has the same inclination to let his whiskers grow and go native that any normal man has occasionally. You can bet 100 to 1 that his wife and family, having seen him at his worst, don't take him any more seriously than the wives and families of other men.

The reason I like to speculate about this is because I have a theory that if human beings could rid themselves of dumb notions about what makes the other fellow tick they'd get along better. For instance, I notice that the night Walter Reuther, the labor leader, was shot he was raiding the refrigerator. A lot of people are wondering why Gen. Marshall was riding a horse when the Japs hit Pearl Harbor. I've always liked the stories about President Coolidge playing tricks on the Secret Service guards at the White House. Mr. Hoover read detective yarns in bed. Franklin D. Roosevelt played with his stamp collection. These are a few of the glimpses of the other fellow that I cherish because I firmly believe the other fellow is no different from me.

If the boss could just realize that the guy who works for him has ambitions and frustrations, and if the employe could realize the same thing about the boss, they'd get along better. Instead they conjure up an idea of what the other fellow is supposed to be, line up their prejudice against this figment of their imagination and create barriers that shouldn't be allowed to exist. There is plenty of room for mutual understanding and respect if we'd only look for it, even in the case of most people we despise. Sometimes I think that people realize this, so they close their minds to it and concentrate on the things they don't like. It's easier to misunderstand than to understand.

Give my regards to the family. I got the letter about arrangements for delivering the boys and they are acceptable. We'll be ready.

THE First Presbyterian church was the scene of the wedding at 4 o'clock this afternoon of Miss Barbara Louise Smith, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Ernest O Smith of 284 Forest street and James Lewis M Barker, son of Mr and Mrs. James L. Barker of Salt Lake City, Wednesday afternoon. The hour was set for 4 o'clock and the custom of open church was observed.

As the guests were being seated Mrs Cecil Davis, organist, and Mrs Eugene H. Moore, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. The organ numbers were "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert, "Romance," Rubenstein, "Indian Love Call," Friml, "One Alone" Romberg and "LaEstrellita," Ponce. Mrs. Moore sang "Through the Years" and "I Love Thee," Grieg, and during the ceremony the organist played "Serenade," from "Student Prince." The traditional wedding marches were used.

For the ceremony, read by Rev Howard L. Olewiler, pastor, the altar was banked with ferns. In the center was a single large basket of Picardy and white gladiolus and blue and white delphinium and at either side was a bouquet of all white gladiolus. The many white lighted candles were held in seven-branch candelabra and two brass cathedral candleholders. Bows of white satin ribbon marked the family pews.

Mr Smith escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. Her gown of off-white satin was made Colonial style. Outlining the yoke of illusion and giving an off-the-shoulder neckline was a ruffle of Venetian lace and the bodice, pointed at the waistline in front, had long sleeves ending with ruffles of the lace. The skirt, made straight and gathered full at the waist was caught at the hemline with tiny rosettes of the satin to show three tiers of the lace, the bottom row extending to form an edge for the deep full train. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of lace and she carried a bridal bouquet of Calla lilies. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a single strand of pearls and for the traditional something old she carried a handmade Battenburg handkerchief which had belonged to Miss Grace Durfee.

The matron of honor was Mrs John D Tabler of Sandusky and bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Hegge of Oak Park Ill., Mrs Albert O Mitchell of Salt Lake City, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Virginia Harris of Middletown, cousin of the bride and Mrs Hugh Thomas of Salt Lake City. Their gowns, fashioned alike, were in a Colonial style with off-the-shoulder necklines and full skirts. The yokes of the gowns matched their lace mitts and they wore halos of matching lace. Mrs. Tabler wore dusty rose, and completing her costume was a shoulder-length veil; Miss Hegge and Mrs. Mitchell were in powder blue and the gowns worn by Miss Harris and Mrs Thomas were in a dusty green shade. Their Colonial styled bouquets held blue delphinium and feverfew.

Hugh Thomas of Salt Lake City served as best man for Mr. Barker and ushers were John Tabler of Sandusky, Lewis Ashworth, James Richards and LaVerne Pfeiffer.

The candles were lighted by Mrs A. P. Young of Columbus and Miss Jill Pluchel. Mrs. Young, costumed in pink, and Miss Pluchel in yellow, wore corsages of white glamellias.

The wedding reception was in the church parlors. The bride's mother was costumed in an afternoon gown of aqua crepe with black accessories and Mrs Barker chose a navy blue sheer dress with which she combined white accessories. Both wore orchid corsages.

Ward – Wilhelm Wedding Read In Parma Heights

THE wedding of Miss Sarah Steel Ward, daughter of Mr and Mrs Harold S Ward of Parma Heights, and Russell M Wilhelm Jr son of Mr and Mrs Russell M Wilhelm of 190 West Columbia street, took place Sunday afternoon in the Parma South Presbyterian church, Parma Heights.

For the ceremony read at 4:30 o'clock by the pastor Rev Howard Wilhelm the altar was decorated with white lilies, chrysanthemums and snapdragons banked with palms. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Keith Peterson, organist.

Mr Ward gave his daughter in marriage. Her dress of white dotted marquisette had a net yoke and the bodice, button trimmed in the back, had long sleeves. The ruffled skirt extended into a train and her short bridal veil fell from a cap fashioned of tiny ruffles. Her bridal bouquet was white roses and she wore the bridegroom's gift, a pearl necklace.

Miss Helen Ward, who was her sister's only attendant, wore a gown of yellow dotted marquisette made like the bride's. Completing her costume was a crownless hat in a matching shade and she carried a bouquet of yellow daisies and blue bachelor buttons.

The bridegroom's father was his best man and ushers were Eugene Schmeder of Erie, Pa and Paul Robinson of Marion.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Ward chose a crepe costume in an aqua blue shade with a hat of natural straw. The bridegroom's mother was costumed in black sheer, with a black hat. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses and bachelor buttons.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 10337 Ackley road where bouquets of white lilies, yellow roses, Iris, chrysanthemums and delphinium carried out a decorative note in yellow and blue.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Buffalo and Toronto, Canada, the bride chose for traveling a gray suit, with which she wore a white crownless hat, brown and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Parma Heights High school and from Ohio State university in 1947. She has been a dietician at Stouffer's in New York City. Mr Wilhelm was graduated from Harding High school and is a senior in the college of agriculture at Ohio State university, where he is affiliated with Theta Chi social fraternity and honorary Pi Alpha Xi. A lieutenant he served with the Army Air Corps three years.

The couple will make their home in Columbus.

Attending the wedding were the bridegroom's grandparents Arthur W Leonhardt and Mr and Mrs C F Wilhelm of Marion, his aunt, Mrs W Lee Carr of San Francisco, Calif., Mr and Mrs William Patterson of Dayton, Mrs Alberta Johnson of Columbus, Mrs Z P Davis, Mrs W Dexter Hazen, Mrs. Paul Reynolds, Mrs Austin Fetter, Mrs C A Marchetto, Mr and Mrs James E Reed, Mr and Mrs W T Buchanan, Mr and Mrs Robert Stief, Mr and Mrs Thomas C Fetter, Paul Robinson and Howard F Guthery.

The bride's parents were hosts for the rehearsal party held Friday evening at their home.

MRS. JOSEPH S. GILLESPIE

Pitts-Gillespie Vows Given In St. Mary Rectory

A GOWN of white slipper satin was worn by Miss Virginia Mae Pitts, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William Pitts of Prospect, for her marriage Tuesday to Joseph Samuel Gillespie. The bridegroom is the son of Karl Gillespie of Prospect. The ceremony was read at 9:30 o'clock in the morning in the rectory of the St. Mary Catholic church by Rev Hugh J. Murphy, assistant pastor. Only the immediate families and close friends and relatives were present for the ceremony.

The bodice of the bride's gown was styled with a lace yoke, with tiny seed pearls centering the flowers in the lace pattern. Outlining the yoke and creating an off the shoulder effect was a cuff of satin, and self covered buttons trimmed the bodice back from the high neckline to the waist. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands. A butterfly bustle bow in the back extended into a circular train, while the front of the skirt was fashioned with a scalloped hemline with shirred inset panels. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was caught to a half bonnet of shirred satin edged with a double row of ruching and trimmed at either side with a small spray of white violets. Tiny white satin bows trimmed the sheer veil. She carried a bouquet of small white rosebuds, light blue delphinium and stephanotis tied with satin streamers. Caught to the streamers were lilies of the valley. Within her bouquet, the bride carried a sterling silver rosary a gift from the bridegroom. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Violet Uliano of Marion. She was attired in a gown of pastel blue lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline. Her headdress was a halo of white carnations and delphinium, and she wore a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and blue belladonna.

Anthony Uliano of Marion served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pitts chose a white linen dress trimmed with lace with which she combined brown and white accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

A reception was held in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. A large three tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table and decorations were in pastel blue and white the bride's chosen colors. Serving were Mrs. William Pitts, Mrs. Robert Stout and Mrs. Loren Gast. When the couple left on a wedding trip to New York City, Mrs. Gillespie was wearing a white mongolian crepe dress accented with a star design. Following their return, they will reside for the present with the bride's parents.

Mrs Gillespie was graduated from Prospect High school with the class of 1947. Mr Gillespie, a graduate of Harding High school in 1935, served three years with the U S. Navy in World War II.

Weddings

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Waldo, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Ava Strine, daughter of Mr and Mrs Harry F Strine of Waldo and Robert Burns Hightshoe, son of Mrs Clara Hightshoe of Columbus, Sunday afternoon. Rev S C Long, pastor, read the double ring service at 3:30 o'clock.

Baskets of Picardy gladiolus, garden flowers and palms decorated the altar lighted with tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette, featuring a yoke edged with ruffles. The hooped skirt was edged in wider ruffles caught to a bustle in the back. Her waist-length veil of illusion was held with a lace cap trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book with an orchid corsage. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Magdalene Strine, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a yellow marquisette dress with matching mitts and headdress and carried a Colonial bouquet of roses and daisies. John Blair of Columbus served as best man and ushers were Clifford Strine, brother of the bride, and Jack Brantner.

Mr Held of the music faculty at Ohio State university, Columbus, played a half-hour program of organ music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Harold Beckett who sang "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

At the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held following the ceremony the table was centered with a tiered wedding cake decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom and appointments were in the bride's colors of yellow and white.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through Canada the bride was wearing a brown gabardine suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Waldo High school and Bliss Business college, Columbus, and has been associated with the School of Music at Ohio State university, Columbus. Mr Hightshoe is a graduate of North High school, Columbus, and Ohio State university. He received his master's degree from the university in March this year and has accepted a position in the public schools at Lancaster where the couple will make their home after Sept. 1.

Episode 9—"Mt Gilead Becomes County Seat" in 1848 a great celebration was held at the old Presbyterian church.

Episode 10—"The Coming of the Iron Horse"—Crowds gather in 1857 to ride into Cleveland for this momentous occasion.

Episode 11—"Slavery Question" depicts in two scenes the abolitionists and a station of the Underground R R.

Episode 12—"The Gay Nineties"—in which this gay and nostalgic era at the turn of the century is brought forth with bustles, bicycles, early autos, brass band, can can dancing girls, etc., etc.

Finale—"March of Freedom" in which Morrow County accepts and goes forward to "meet the challenge of leadership in a troubled world" 100 years from the beginning of its struggle for life.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER HELD FOR RAIL MEN

Special to The Star

GALION, June 17 — Stressing friendship among all employes, a more friendly and personal attitude among all railroad men, with less departmentalization, C A Radford of Cincinnati, retired publicity manager of the New York Central Railroad company, gave an inspirational address at the testimonial dinner held for NYC groups who recently completed special public relations classes in the last six weeks at various points along the line There were about 140 present for the banquet at First Reformed church here Tuesday night.

Radford told the group that employes should be able to answer questions of all departments, and not just those pertaining to their own department. He said that with so many government regulations, the railroads are up against serious problems. He said that the public has misunderstood the percentage of return made by the railroads He urged team work among railroad men, asking them to stick together as a family and not become so departmentalized.

W. G. Voelker, trainmaster of Galion, presided. Invocation was given by G G McMillan, district general car foreman, of Springfield. The toastmaster was R. W. Williams of Marion, chief clerk. In the absence of Mayor H. H. Hartman a welcome was extended by G V Kerschner of the Galion freight office.

Others who appeared were J D King of Springfield, division chairman and assistant superintendent, E W Hobbs of Chicago, and L. A. Champ of Springfield, superintendent. Special music was provided by the Galion Clippers quartet composed of Charles Line, Willard Chambers, Paul Warwick and R. Trautman Employes were present from Delaware, Galion, Marion, and Wellington, in addition to the officials. H. L. McKay, freight agent of the N. Y. C., Galion, was in charge of ticket arrangements, while the program was planned by the trainmaster, W G Voelkner.

Women's Group Meets At Christian Church

The Women's society of Central Christian church met Wednesday night at the church. Mrs. George Pickering and Mrs Frank Fairchild conducted the devotions. Plans were made to serve refreshments at a district meeting of garden clubs to be held June 29 at the church Mrs. George Wiseman was elected secretary of the organization Miss Florence Betz was named to represent the group at conference to be held at Bluffton July 18-24 and Hiram Aug 8-14 A pledge of $300 was made to the church building fund. AUTO OUTPUT RECORD LOOMS

Peak Car Production Period Seems Probable Just Around Corner.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT June 17 Much automobile production certainly during this week but a new output record probably is just around the corner.

This is the conclusion of many industry analysts. They see July 1 inaugurating a new high level of car and truck assembly. Best bet right now appears to be that 1,000,000 cars and trucks will be built between July 1 and Aug. 10.

Barring another coal mine slowup or other development to interfere with steel supplies that production level could be maintained through September and into October.

Most industry sources seem agreed a lot of new models originally planned for production in October will not reach the assembly lines until after the first of next year. That will help substantially in increasing the 1948 output volume.

Complete 2 Post-war Years

Two weeks hence the industry will complete three years of post-war operations. In those three years it will have built close to 7,500,000 passenger cars. That just about matches normal retail replacement demand of the war years. It probably means that the estimated 5,500,000 backlog of unfilled orders is a conservative figure.

The actual number of unfilled orders on hand means little to the dealers most of them are sold out for a year and more ahead and many are refusing new orders. If they would book all the orders offered the backlog—including a lot of duplications—would come close to 7,500,000.

The size of the filled order bank is of concern to the average individual seeking a new car. For the more popular models low deliveries are being promised within a year. In most instances would-be buyers are told the wait may be as long as 18 months.

The next 1949 model car to be introduced probably will come out in September. Until quite recently it was been assumed Nash would be first out after Ford. Now the suggestion is being heard that Chevrolet may be next. Chevrolet's probable design and styling is of more than ordinary interest right now because of the radical changes Ford made in its newest post-war models.

Company Plans Guarded

Whatever Chevrolet may be planning it is being more carefully guarded than ever before in industry history.

So far as Chevrolet's first place in production and sales are concerned it probably could afford a month's shutdown for model change-overs without endangering that leadership.

Ford lost a lot of production during its model switch over and probably will not reach post-war normal levels until mid-July. So far this year Ford has produced about 185,000 Ford cars. Chevrolet over the same period has turned out 358,000.

Probably one of the best jobs of pulling out of a production jam is being done by Packard. One of the companies hardest hit by steel shortages Packard made only 55,477 cars last year. So far this year it has made almost 40,000. At present cars are rolling from the Packard assembly lines here at the rate of 85 an hour.

If the planning of its president and general manager George T. Christopher is realized Packard stands a good chance of topping the 100,000 unit level this year for the second time in its 50-year history.

Packard's best production year was 1937 when 109,518 cars were built.

Delegates Are Elected By Legion Auxiliary

Delegates and alternates were elected to an American Legion Auxiliary state convention to be held Aug. 7-8 in Columbus at a meeting of the Auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162 American Legion held Monday night in the Dugout. The delegates will be Mrs. Don DeLong president Mrs. Chester Morris Mrs. Don Marquis and Mrs. Richard Burklew and the alternates Mrs. Fred Hammond Mrs. Norval Foreman Mrs. Craig Rogers and Mrs. Ila Felgar.

Applications for three new members were received and total membership in the auxiliary is now 193. Mrs. Robert Brown poppy chairman reported a total of $695.36 realized from the recent poppy sale and a contribution of $10 was voted to be given for leukemia research. Mrs. DeLong named members of the executive board to be in charge of arrangements for the dinner to be served by the auxiliary at the Sixth District convention to be held here July 18.

An announcement was made that members of the auxiliary will meet with the men of the Legion for a picnic July 11. The next regular meeting will be Aug. 9. The last meeting of each month is being discontinued during June July and August and due to the picnic in July the regular meeting on the second Monday is being canceled.

Upper Sandusky Elks Hold Patriotic Services

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY June 17—"Enemies at home who bore from within are more to be feared than distant threats to world peace" said Rev. John E. Duffy of New London during the Elks sponsored Flag day service here.

Father Duffy a former Army chaplain gave an account of the fall of the Philippines work with the guerrillas, his capture and imprisonment. He blamed present conditions of confusion and unrest on greed and selfishness of both leaders and followers and called for a return to respect for the law of God as the only salvation for American ideals and peace in the world. That law he continued involves the practice of justice fidelity, brotherly love and charity.

THINNED-OUT BILL ON HOUSING FAVORED

By The United Press

WASHINGTON June 17 The house banking committee today approved by a 15 to 11 vote a housing bill stripped of the controversial public housing and slum clearance features of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner measure

The banking committee in approving the new housing bill without the most controversial provisions of the senate-approved T-E-W measure, reversed an earlier decision

The banking committee on a 14 to 13 vote last week approved a bill with the public housing slum clearance provisions in it

That bill was tabled and, in effect killed by the house rules committee yesterday

Banking committee Chairman Jesse P Wolcott (R-Mich) told reporters the new housing bill will be considered by the house under a suspension of the rules procedure today or tomorrow Under this procedure the bill will not have to clear through the rules committee The bill will require however a two-thirds affirmative vote by the house to pass it

Sketch of a Possible White House Hostess

Esther Glewwe Stassen

(One of a series of daily articles about wives of men from which the Republican nominee is likely to be chosen.)

MRS. HAROLD STASSEN

A POLITICIAN'S MODEL of what a First Lady should be is Esther Stassen who says my husband doesn't want to be president . . . he wants a chance to act out his ideas and ideals."

And she has almost worshipfully made his goals her goals. She is a Stassen fan as well as a devoted wife of the kind who stays in the background as the campaign managers say candidates' wives should. Esther Stassen is the youngest of the "Ladies in Waiting," just as her husband is the youngest presidential candidate at 41. She was born Esther Glewwe in the little town of Mound, Minn., on May 4, 1916. Both the Stassens attended the University of Minnesota. She is not a graduate and neither is she the intellectual type. Although quiet by nature it is amazing that her club affiliations are so many and varied.

HOWEVER, Esther Stassen isn't the leader in these. She is more the one to lend the prestige of her name as a member of the National Federation of Republican Women, American Red Cross, Christian Science and League of Women Voters. She is a Delta Zeta. During the war when her governor husband turned Navy commander to serve under Adm. William (Bull) Halsey she busied herself helping the WACs and Waves and was a staff assistant for the Red Cross. The relationship between the Stassens is one of the nicest things about them.

THEY grew up together and attended the same services in a Baptist church together. The Stassens are close and while he doesn't consult her on political strategy he seeks her comfort in a telephone call every night from wherever he may be. She "believes what ain't but makes the Harold and Esther team a mighty strong one. If elected there will be plenty of small fry running around in the White House for Glen Harold is but 12 years old and has sister Kathleen Esther only 6. Not known as well in Washington as the wives of some of the other presidential hopefuls, Esther Stassen, fortified by her experience as a First Lady of Minnesota, would be the most "wife of" First Lady in the Land of our day. She would do as her Harold and the State department tell her to do as America's hostess . . . dotting every "i" and crossing every "t."

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is all out of whack. As one advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break up certain food particles; also the food may ferment, dead food, and indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, uneasy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that HMS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or nearly gone in a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the HMS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent ingredients.

Also, HMS Tonic helps build-up nervousness, weak, watery blood in many individuals—so with a good flow of this gastric digestant, you may relish and enjoy your meals and have better, full bodies, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalines to counteract gas and bloating. When you are so dearly loved by HMS Tonic to help you digest food by your stomach, and repair. Don't wait. Join the host of happy people HMS Tonic has helped, millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle at HMS Tonic from your drug store today. HMS Tonic helps Build Weight, Health.

Pickerel, captain of the guard; William J. Thomas, conductor of council; Esla N. Veley, steward; Otto J. Ricker, sentinel; John T. Gruber, trustee for three years.

The officers were installed by George O. Lockwood, retiring master, who acted as grand master, Ralph E. Carhart, grand marshal, B. Harry Gast, grand recorder, and Kenneth E. Fields, grand sentinel.

Following the installation Mr. King announced the following appointments: pianist, William C. Lobenwein; chaplain, J. T. Gruber; marshal, John E. Beer; orator, B. Harry Gast; captain of the Giblites, Winthrop P. Ames; finance committee, William J. Thomas, Terrance E. Connor, Kenneth F. Fields; welfare committee, Robert F. Williams, J. T. Gruber, Robert O. Grove.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the Fifth Arch of which Marion is a part will hold its annual meeting in Columbus on Friday, July 9.

The council will recess until Sept. 15.

ENROLLMENT DOUBLES

KENTON—The Daily Vacation Bible school has gone into its second week here with a doubled enrollment, according to Rev. Allen Bowe, dean of the school. The first week an enrollment of 120 was marked but that figure had reached 250 in the second week. Bad weather was believed to have slowed enrollment the first week, the dean said.

MRS. WALTER E. MILEY

KING'S DAUGHTERS ELECT MRS. MILEY

Annual Meeting of County Organization Held Here.

An annual meeting of the city and county unions of King's Daughters and Sons was held Tuesday night in the recreational rooms at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Walter E. Miley, state president and head of the city union, presided for the meeting and program which was attended by about 60 persons.

Election of officers for the city and county union was held with Mrs. Miley elected president, Mrs. A. W. Kette, vice president, Mrs. Byron Rice, county president, Miss Geraldine Hord, treasurer, Mrs. Charles Elliott, assistant treasurer and auditor, and Mrs. M. C. Murphy, secretary. All were reelected.

Installation of these officers and officers of the various circles was conducted by Mrs. Miley.

The meeting opened with group singing of the hymns of the order and devotions by Mrs. W. A. Dorsey. Annual reports were given by circle leaders on the year's activities and projects, and Mrs. Dorsey, Marion county Indian chairman, reported on her work for the year.

An announcement was made of a new Junior circle organized in Marion on Jan. 28, 1948, known as the Golden Rule Circle. It is composed of young people six to ten years of age and is sponsored by Mrs. James Gast.

Guest speaker for the program was Mrs. Alice Seidelmuer, supervisor of nurses in the Marion County health department. She spoke on the tuberculosis program in the city and county. Two piano solos were given by Mrs. O. D. Anderson, and Mrs. Charles Smith presented two vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Anderson. The two Presbyterian circles, Circle of Service and Whatsoever Circle were hostesses for the meeting.

Car and Truck Check Conducted by Patrol

A three-hour truck and car check was conducted by the local highway patrol post yesterday afternoon four and one-half miles north on highway 23, Corporal Tom Morgan reported today. Fifty-two motorists were advised to correct faulty brakes, lights, horns and various other mechanical parts of their vehicles. A check conducted Tuesday on highway 42 south of Cardington resulted in one arrest and 43 warnings.

Three arrests made by the patrol yesterday included that of Walter Biel of Lexington, fined $5 and costs in mayor's court at Mt. Gilead on a charge of operating a vehicle with no muffler at 10:15 p. m. on highway 42. Sylvester Burns of Roundneck was arrested on a stop sign violation charge at the intersection of highways 37 and 4, and was fined $10 and costs in municipal court yesterday. Wiefred Hinamon of near Marion received a citation at 11 p. m. on highway 23 yesterday, charged with operating a motor vehicle with insufficient lights. He is to appear in municipal court at 10 a. m. Saturday.

GREEN CAMP CHURCH IN BIBLE CONFERENCE

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP, June 17—There will be no evening service in the Baptist church next Sunday. The local church will join with other churches of the Marion Baptist association in attending the Bible conference conducted by Dr. W. W. Adams at the Richwood Baptist church.

The Youth Fellowship of the Marion association will hold a rally Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Ruth Dreyer will be in charge. Dr. Adams will be the speaker.

C. of C. Committee Cites Danger From Use of Fireworks

The following article on the control of fireworks as a means of reducing July 4 fire losses and personal injuries was prepared by the Fire Prevention Committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

* * *

Even though July 4 is more than two weeks away the fireworks season is upon us again. We must all remember that this will not be an open season because that is forbidden by law. The Ohio state law prohibits the sale of fireworks at retail. This law was enacted to reduce the heavy toll of casualties resulting from noisy celebrations at Independence day.

Aside from heavy casualties we have here in Ohio another reason to try and have a safe and sane Fourth of July season. The governor of the state of Ohio has a Ohio Fire Safety Committee and John F. Smith is chairman of this committee in Marion. Mr. Smith states in view of the desperate need to curb the staggering fire losses throughout Ohio, the sheriffs and police chiefs have been alerted in this county. Our fire chiefs have also been alerted.

Nowhere in town are fireworks on sale, but some young citizens in this vicinity might have them. A few probably have been left over from last year but mostly they have been purchased from outside sources. Last year there were no fatalities from fireworks in Ohio on the Fourth of July, but there wer a number of persons injured.

There is still a time and place for fireworks. But the time is the Fourth, and the place is in the hands of an American Legion committee or some other responsible group who can put on a better show than the neighborhood boys individually, and with less risk to all concerned.

Parents and children should take heed to the above so that we can have a safe Fourth of July season with regard to eliminating injuries and fires.

Charges Priest Called Him a Communist

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 17—Attorney Lody Huml, a former state legislator, filed a $100,000 libel suit today against Rev. Fr. Edmund J. Halloran, director of the Catholic Holy Name society, alleging Father Halloran attached him as a Communist sympathizer during the primary election campaign.

Huml was defeated in the May 4 Democratic ballot by incumbent Robert Cramer in a four-way contest for nomination as Twenty-first district congressman. He polled only 2,400 votes to 13,114 for Cramer, a Protestant, and 10,886 for Emil A. Bartunek, a Catholic.

Attached to the petition was a copy of a letter Huml alleges the Cleveland Holy Name society director sent to Catholic churches in the Twenty-first congressional district. The letter, Huml charged, contained the "recklessly and maliciously published false and malicious statement that the plaintiff was continuously in company of known Communists and frequented meeting places of Communist front organizations."

Hardin Co. Teaching Pioneer Retires From One Job, Takes Another, at 76

Special to The Star

KENTON, June 17—No sooner had Frank Ellis, 76, closed one "phase" of a remarkable teaching career, by resigning as principal of the Central grammar school, than another second-wind job came along. Mr. Ellis is slated to continue teaching as an instructor of "math" on the new Junior High school faculty next fall.

For 44 years he was principal of the grammar school, and his total of 56 years of teaching is said to make him the dean of all Ohio schoolmasters. With little fear of contradiction, it is said that Mr Ellis is the oldest teacher in the state from the viewpoint of years of service in the profession.

Students numbering just short of 15,000 have passed under his tutelage, more of them than any other instructor can boast it is estimated.

Frank Ellis is a pedagogue of the "old school," but the "new school" has no more effective way of pounding the fundamentals of arithmetic into the non-arithmetical head, he believes.

Studied Law

Born in DeGraff, Logan county Feb 22 1872, Mr Ellis graduated from high school there, and then went into the law offices of John and Clay Huston in Bellefontaine In order to finance himself through law school he began teaching, and he liked it so well he decided to make teaching his career.

His first school was the Newell school in Union township, Logan county He then went to Deep Cut school, then to the Kahlor school, and next served as superintendent of the Pickrelltown schools until the spring of 1899 In the fall he went to West Liberty where he served as high school principal. In November of 1902 he came to Kenton as grammar school principal

Editor for a Time

Here he has served since except for two years One year from the fall of 1917 until soon after the first World war armistice, he served as editor of the Kenton News, serving during the time Ivan Johnson then editor, was in the armed forces. For a short time he was in the stucco contracting business, returning to his school duties in the fall of 1919.

"I was never happy out of school work, and I never will be," said Mr. Ellis. Mr. Ellis has served under five Kenton school superintendents E. J. Britton, N E Hutchinson, D. B. Clark, L. S. McKinley and Supt. Walter L. Collins. During his 56 years of teaching, he has started many on the way Less than a month ago he had a surprise reunion with the first pupil he met in his first school—Milton Yoder, a farmer of near Belle Center. It was the first time he had seen Mr. Yoder since that first year, and he remembered him as "Milton"

Likes Drama Directing

In school work Mr. Ellis' favorite extra-curricular activity down through the years has been his stage direction of the annual grammar school operettas Last year he also directed the highly-successful high school operetta "The Fortune Teller."

There is real proof that Mr Ellis "never would be happy out of teaching." For should he retire today, he says, he would have more net income than he enjoys as a teacher! This is because of retirement benefits that would accrue to him, along with other considerations

"I hope I'll never have to give it up," he says

One story, well-known to his colleagues, merits re-telling

A little girl's aunt, whom the child had just informed she "just couldn't get her arithmetic," suggested that she pray and "ask the good Lord to help her."

"Oh, that would never do," replied the little girl, "Mr Ellis doesn't allow us to have any help"

And it has been the experience of all of us who have come under his tutelage that Mr Ellis' help, in his field, is in itself sufficient.

END ARMY TEST ON LOW CALORY RATIONS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 17—Eleven gaunt, bearded soldiers were back on a near-normal diet today, after living on "dog biscuits" and water for five weeks.

In the period during which they ate only the Army's experimental "survival ration," these developments were noted:

After the first 10 days, the soldiers became cross, acutely sensitive and irritable

Thereafter, the men's nervousness tapered off to a general lassitude,

Observers found that the soldiers' conversation was focused almost exclusively on food.

After a while, there wasn't much talk of any kind.

The men reported numerous dreams of food, Sunday dinners and lavish banquets. One soldier said he repeatedly had "ice-box" nightmares.

The men tore down pin-up girls they had pasted on the walls of their quarters, and replaced them with magazine picture pin-ups of juicy steaks, fried chicken and baked hams.

At first the men played table-tennis, sunned on a nearby beach and engaged in other activities, but toward the end they spent most of their time simply resting

All the men lost weight—the amounts ranging up to 30 pounds

During the test, conducted by the Army, each soldier received 900 calories a day, compared with the 2,500 to 3,500 received by the average New Yorker.

3 Ex-Service Men Return to Uniform

Three local former service men have elected to return to uniform according to reports from Army and Navy recruiters.

Hubert Frederick Miller, 21, son of Mr and Mrs. H Miller of New Bloomington and Earl Ray Thompson, 21, son of Mrs Mildred E. Thompson of 679 North State street, both former Navy men, have been accepted for three year enlistment and now await assignment at Washington, D. C., according to information received today by Chief Engineman Carl T Prusnek, Navy recruiter here

Merle Melvin son of Mrs Cora Melvin of near Marion, a veteran of wartime service in the European theater, reenlisted as a staff sergeant in the U. S Army on May 26, and after serving a refresher period at Fort Dix, N J in preparation for a return to service in Europe has returned to Marion for a 7-day furlough with his family and friends.

Since his reenlistment in the Army S/Sgt. Melvin has qualified as an officer candidate and will win him a commission as second lieutenant infantry reserve

S/Sgt Melvin is a graduate of Harding High school, class of 1939, and was employed as a male attendant at City hospital at the time of his enlistment. While stationed at Fort Dix he has been assigned as a payroll clerk.

SHERIFF ON WATCH FOR 3 ESCAPEES

Marion Man Among Trio Who Fled Reformatory.

The Marion county sheriff's office was alerted today to be on the watch for three escapees from the state reformatory at Mansfield, one of them a Marion man, and another with relatives here.

The three men fled the reformatory dairy farm Tuesday night They are Harold Thompson, 24, sent up from Marion county to serve one to three years for fraud March 3 of this year, James Montgomery, 20, sent up from Lawrence county for burglary in September 1944, and Theodore Lonabaugh, 20, who was serving a one to 20 year sentence from Lorain county on auto larceny.

Thompson is a Marion man and Montgomery has relatives here, the sheriff's office was advised Details of the escape were got revealed by prison authorities.

211 Arrests Listed In Report of Police

E. O. Uncapher, city safety-service director, today issued the following report of police activities during May, as submitted to his office by Police Chief William E. Marks.

During May police here arrested 211 persons, answered 454 calls, and served 89 meals to persons held in city prison.

FATALITIES BLAMED ON RACE CAR'S GEAR

By The United Press

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 17—A faulty steering gear was blamed today for the deaths of a father and son who were killed when a midget racing car hurtled 100 feet through the air and struck them

The dead were identified as Ralph Brown, 38, and his son Robert, 17, both of Rockford

The driver of the car Ted Duncan of Beecher, Ill., and Miami Fla., was not believed to be in a serious condition But Jack Darby, 16, a gate attendant at the track, suffered a severe head injury

Duncan, a well-known midget racing driver, said something "went haywire" as he attempted to round a turn last night at the northeast corner of the track

Duncan said the steering gear failed to function.

The car turned a complete somersault after skidding into a guard rail and catapulted into a parking lot where the three men were standing.

OIL PRODUCTION UP

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, June 17 — The outlook for continued high production of petroleum products in 1948 is more reassuring now than at any time in months, the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil association was told today D T Ring of Columbus O., president, told the association's 25th anniversary meeting that overall crude oil production was up 13 per cent over last year and gasoline production up five per cent

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Protection from Rickets

RICKETS is a condition due to lack of vitamin D, sometimes known as the "sunshine" vitamin. Formed by the body itself in the presence of sunshine, it is essential to strong bones and good general health. Without it, neither calcium nor phosphorus can be used by the body.

In consequence the bones are softened to the point where they cannot do their job of supporting the weight. For this reason, the baby with rickets is likely to develop bow-legs and other deformities. He also has weak flabby muscles, sweats a great deal and grows cross and irritable.

Of late years babies have been protected against this disease by the giving of preparations containing vitamin D, beginning when they are about two weeks old. Sometimes, particularly in the case of premature babies who are more susceptible to rickets than those born at full term, it is started earlier.

Recently a cheaper and more convenient way of doing this has been discovered.

Studies have been carried out not only on animals, but also with infants, which show that it is possible to protect normal babies against rickets for a period varying from six to twelve months by giving them a series of injections of vitamin D in oil. The injection is given into a muscle.

It is suggested that the best time for the use of this preventive measure is on the eighth day after birth. At first, 25,000 units of the vitamin D were employed later on this was reduced to one-fourth of this amount. However, in order to be more certain that the rickets will be prevented it is recommended that 12,500 units be given to protect the infant against rickets especially when it is living in a region where, during the fall and winter months, sunshine is greatly reduced. The smaller dose may be used in climates where exposure to sunshine during the fall and winter months can be more liberal.

Premature infants are given the full dose of 12,500 units during the winter period and the same dose during the summer period.

There would seem to be no objections to repeating the injections of vitamin D each year during the latter part of September or the early part of October.

It would appear from the studies already made that such a method of preventing rickets is quite satisfactory and should be used if additional studies confirm the studies already reported.

Questions And Answers

J. S. Will you please tell me if an enlarged liver ever returns to its normal size? Is it dangerous?

Answer. An enlarged liver may return to its normal size however, this depends on the cause of the enlargement.

Some cases of enlarged liver are serious, such as those due to cirrhosis or hardening. The liver may also become enlarged as a result of heart failure, due to congestion of blood in the liver.

A through study should be made to determine the cause of the difficulty, then proper treatment may be suggested.

Grand Prairie Grange Entertains Salt Rock

A meeting of Grand Prairie Grange was held Tuesday night, June 8 at the Grange hall with Paul Deahl, master presiding. Members of Salt Rock Grange were guests. The literary program included a fancy drill by 16 members of the Juvenile Grange group singing of "Happy Birthday" to Loren Starner, master of Salt Rock Grange, two vocal numbers by Joan Lyon, reading by Bonnie Pride, and "The Sweetheart Waltz" played by a clarinet quartet composed of Connie Jones, Shirley Neff, Jean Barkley and Ruth Barnard. Guest speaker was Dr. Walter McClaskey. Refreshments were served by the social committee.

DR. E. C. SHERMAN OF CARDINGTON RETIRING

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, June 17—Dr. E. C. Sherman of Cardington will retire July 1 after more than 52 years service as a practicing physician. He has maintained an office in Cardington since 1910. His first office was established in South Woodbury in February, 1896, and he later moved his office to Fulton before coming to Cardington 38 years ago.

A graduate of Starling Medical college, Dr. Sherman estimates that he has delivered more than 2,000 babies during his half century of practice.

Dr. Stanley L. Brody of Geneva-on-the-Lake, has purchased the office building and practice of Dr. Sherman and will locate in Cardington about July 1.

Dr. Brody was graduated from Ohio State medical college in March, 1947, and for the last year has served with the U. S. Navy, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Dr. and Mrs. Sherman will continue to reside in Cardington during the summer months, spending the winter in New Smyrna, Fla.

TRAINS AS MISSIONARY

Miss Phyllis Laverne Beckley, a former resident of Mt. Gilead, received a bachelor of arts degree from the Baptist Missionary Training school, Chicago, Ill., a professional college for Christian workers, in commencement exercises held Monday, June 14, at the school. Miss Beckley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Beckley of El Paso, Tex. Miss Beckley was graduated from Mt. Gilead High school and attended the College of Wooster at Wooster, O., one year. While at the training school, Miss Beckley served as president of her junior class, was a song leader, school and class pianist, photography editor of the school magazine, and was a member of the chapel choir. Miss Beckley plans to serve as family and welfare and church visitor at Brooks House in Hammond, Ind.

An expert operator can cancel the stamps on about 7,000 letters an hour by using a modern electric cancelling machine.

CIRCLE PLANS PICNIC

Plans were made for a picnic to be held in July when the Mother's club Circle 5 of Wesley Methodist church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Augenstein on Harding Highway. East. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Homer Moshn and prayer was by Mrs. Edwin A. Brown. Contest honors during the social hour were won by Mrs. Jay Finley, Mrs. Ronald Mathis, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Marie Lasley, and a gift from the group was presented to Mrs. Arthur Noble, who is moving to Detroit, Mich., in the near future. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by her daughter, Miss Juanita Augenstein, and Mrs. Moshn. Guests were Mrs. Lashey, Miss Augenstein and Mrs. Brown.

DRAGGED BY AUTO, OHIO YOUTH DIES

By The Associated Press

WILMINGTON, O., June 17—James Clemmer, 17, died today several hours after having been dragged nearly a mile by an automobile on Guernyville pike, state highway Patrolman W. M. Wells said.

Wells said the boy told him he started to walk from Wilmington to his home five miles northwest of here, got tired, sat down on the edge of the road and went to sleep.

George H. Wright, 24, who lives a few miles northwest of Wilmington, was quoted by Wells as saying he saw what appeared to be "a bundle of rags" on the road while driving home and straddled it.

After his car began dragging, he stopped about seven-tenths of a mile away and found Clemmer's right leg caught between the chassis and one of the automobile wheels, according to Wells.

Clemmer was conscious at the time, according to Wright. He died four hours later in Hale hospital. He was the son of Mrs. Jones Clemmer.

Summer Porch Suppers

HAM AND PEA WHIRLIGIG . . . Tasty and economical.

★ ★ ★

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you are looking for an inexpensive main dish that's good to eat and extremely attractive to serve for a summer porch supper you'll like the Ham and Pea Whirligig shown in the accompanying photograph. The deviled ham in this dish costs less than fifty cents for four servings, and there's additional protein in the milk, the peas, the enriched flour. The canned peas used in this dish are plentiful and cheap, too, since stocks of them are greater than they have ever been at this time of the year.

I was interested to note, in a government report, that American acceptance of canned meat products has grown considerably. There are more than 30 standard varieties of canned meats and many more specialty meat products available. Canned meats contain the same high quality protein as do the home-prepared.

Ham and Pea Whirligig

Part One—2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 No. 2 can peas, milk, 2 tablespoons chopped pimento, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Put butter or margarine in saucepan and melt over low heat, blend in flour and remove from heat. Drain liquid from peas, add enough milk to make 1½ cups. Add to blended flour and butter gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition. Return to heat and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add peas, pimento and salt; keep over very low heat until vegetables are heated. Turn into 2-part casserole and top with the following biscuits:

Part Two—1½ cups sifted flour, 2¼ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoons salt, 3 tablespoons fat, ½ cup milk, 2 small cans deviled ham.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in fat with a pastry blender or two knives until the mixture resembles coarse meal. Add the milk, mixing to a soft dough; place on lightly floured board and knead for thirty seconds. Roll into a rectangle approximately 12x8 inches. Spread with the deviled ham. Beginning at the longer side, roll as tightly as possible. Cut in approximately 1-inch pieces, place on top of hot creamed vegetables in casserole. Bake in a hot (450°F.) oven for 25 mins. 6 servings.

An emergency shelf that will yield quick inexpensive main dishes seems to me even more important in summer than in winter—because in fine weather there are more unexpected guests! Here is a dish that's easily put together. Vary it if you like—cold ham will substitute for the luncheon meat; and maple syrup or maple-flavored syrup is good to baste the sweet potatoes with instead of brown sugar.

Baked Pork and Yams

1 12-ounce can pork luncheon meat, 1 No. can yam sweet potatoes, 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Cut luncheon meat into 4 thick slices; place in center of shallow baking dish. Drain yams, saving one-half cup liquid. Slice yams, and arrange around meat. Add sugar to yam liquid and bring to boil; pour over meat and yams. Bake in moderate (375°F.) oven about 25 mins. 4 servings.

If you would like to get 150 new, well-tested inexpensive recipes for main dishes send for a copy of the booklet called "Money Saving Main Dishes," which has just been issued by the Office for Food and Feed Conservation with the cooperation of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics. All you have to do to get a free copy is to send a postcard with your name and address on it to "Food Conservation, Washington 25, D. C." No message is required. It's up to housewives to shop for plentiful foods, prepare nutritious meals and use shopping and cooking thrift to keep expenses at a minimum; this little booklet will help you.

CITIZEN VOLUNTEERS FILL STREET HOLES

By The United Press

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., June 17—The streets of Alexandria were free of chuck-holes today but it took 500 volunteers a day to do the job of smoothing the pavement.

The mayor three ministers and two bankers pitched in to help their fellow townsmen.

Aroused by the "thousands" of holes in the streets, shirt-sleeved Mayor Guy C. Lewis led a crew of men, women and children who spent yesterday pouring and smoothing asphalt.

Alexandria Better Business association sponsored the campaign after motorists complained that they cut their tires on jagged edges of the holes. The streets were hardly passable, they said.

Town officials admitted that the situation was bad. But they said there was no money available to furnish labor and materials necessary to do the job quickly.

So Tuesday night housewives swept out the chuck-holes, prepare them for the asphalt. Yesterday a fleet of trucks came by business firms swept in from nearby Anderson, filled with asphalt and tar.

All business firms but [illegible] rants and drug stores closed and factories dismissed executives to help in the work.

After the job was completed yesterday everyone was happy except the police department.

"We need to watch those speeders again now that the streets are smooth," one officer said.

Marion Cubs Sweep Series from Zanesville Dodgers with 10-5 Win

Bill Adkins Gets Credit For Win Though Relieved in 9th

Special to The Star

ZANESVILLE, O., June 17—After being held fairly well in check for six innings the Marion Cubs pushed over five runs in the seventh and added three more in the eighth to lick the Zanesville Dodgers 10 to 5 here last night and sweep the two-game series.

Bill Adkins and Al Lampenfield staged an interesting hill battle over the first six innings but with the Cubs leading by only one run, they fell on the Zanesville lefty in the seventh, drove him to cover and sewed up the game.

Adkins granted only four hits during the first eight innings but he was unable to finish. After giving up two hits and three walks in the ninth Manager Bekeza took over. One run scored on an error and another tallied on a wild pitch before he retired the side.

Meet Newark Tonight

The Cubs leave for Newark today where they will meet the Yankees, with whom they are tied for the Ohio-Indiana league's fifth place, nine games behind the leading Muncie Reds. They'll meet there tomorrow night too.

Nick Allvojvodic will probably take the hill against the Yankees tonight in quest of his ninth victory. He has lost six. His only previous start against the Yanks—at Newark May 15—was unsuccessful as Newark jumped on him for eight hits and a 6-3 victory.

The Cubs and Newark will play a three-game series at Marion starting Saturday night.

Bekeza was struck in the stomach by a line drive off the bat of King as he attempted to steal home in the seventh but apparently was unhurt. He was less than 10 feet from the plate when King connected with a three and two pitch.

10 Bat in 7th

Ten Cubs went to bat in the seventh inning. With one out, Bohlander walked, Neukirch, Bekeza and Bolduc followed with singles. Bobzean and King walked and Schmitt singled before Sobocinski was able to stop the shellacking.

The only extra base hit of the game was King's double in the fourth which scored Bolduc who had reached first on an error.

Adkins, an 18-year-old right-hander from Cincinnati, was pitching his first game in professional baseball. He was signed to a Springfield (Mass.) Cubs' contract by Cub Scout Tony Lucadello, who was highly impressed by his record on the Cincinnati sandlots, and Springfield optioned him to Marion this week. He stands five feet ten, weighs 165 and bats as he throws.

ONE IN EVERY PARK?

Ken Keltner, Cleveland third sacker who hit 10 circuit blows through the Indian's first 18 games, was away to a fast start toward achieving the comparatively rare feat of homering in every American league park. Ken, whose best homer year of 28 came in his first season with Cleveland and his first in the majors, 1938, had notched round trippers in five different parks.

The buildings of the University of Virginia were built according to a plan prepared by Thomas Jefferson.

A GROUP of Marion baseball fans in Cleveland Tuesday night watching the Boston Red Sox spoil the Indian's homecoming, 7 to 2, saw a play in that game which answered for them a question they had been asking since May 5 when an Ohio-Indiana league umpire made a ruling that cost the Marion Cubs two runs against the Springfield Giants.

The question was: Was the umpire right? And the answer: he was not.

That is, the Ohio-Indiana league ump was wrong if the American league ump was right, for the play at Cleveland was identical with one that developed between the Cubs and the Giants at Springfield May 5, but the umpires' ruling differed.

HERE WAS THE SET-UP at Cleveland. It was the top of the fifth, one out and the bases loaded with Vern Stephens on third, Bobby Doerr on second and Birdie Tebbetts on first. Mel Parnell tapped one of Bob Lemon's pitches right back to the mound, and Lemon threw to Jo Tipton at the plate, forcing Stephens. Tipton threw to Eddie Robinson on first attempting to double Parnell, who was streaking straight down the base path, but the ball struck Parnell's back, and while it was being retrieved, Doerr scored. Parnell was safe at first. Tipton was charged with an error on the throw to first.

And here's the identical situation that occurred at Springfield. It was the top of the tenth, one run in, none out and the bases loaded with Vito Tutera on third, Tom Gatts on second, and Bill Bolduc on first. Lee Bohlander hit to the Giant's shortstop, George Poydeniez, who threw to Bob Roth at the plate, forcing Tutera. Roth threw to Bob Huffman on first, but like Tipton's throw Tuesday night, the ball struck Bohlander's back, who, like Parnell, was streaking straight down the base path. While the ball was being retrieved, Gatts and Bolduc scored, but Umpire George Davis declared Bohlander out for interference with the fielding of the ball, and put Gatts and Bolduc back on base, where they subsequently died.

UMPIRE DAVIS' ruling at Springfield precipitated a 20-minute argument that ended with Cub Manager Zeke Bekeza being chased off the field and fined $25.

The argument was over the interpretation of the official rule governing the play which reads: The base runner is out if, in running the last half of the distance between home base to first base, while the ball is being fielded to first base, he run outside the three-foot lines, and, in the opinion of the umpire, interferes with the fielder taking the throw at first base; except that he may run outside the three-foot lines to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball.

In both situations the base runner was running inside the three foot lines (that is, between the base line from home to first and a parallel line three feet away toward the grandstand side) when hit by a ball being fielded to first; but in the majors he was safe, the run counted, the thrower got an error; in the Ohio-Indiana league, the runner was out, the runs didn't count, and no error.

Smitty's Win 4th NCO League Fray

Smitty's Grill won their fourth league fray last night against two defeats in downing Tiffin, 5-2.

Howison was the game winner, driving in the winning run in the sixth frame after the bases had been loaded—two men reaching first base on errors and a hit batter.

Smokey Keller of Tiffin homered with one on to tally two Tiffin runs in the sixth.

Gorman Rupp maintained top spot in the NCO league by defeating Ashland's Indians, 4-2, in eight innings.

Next league contest will be played Monday at Crystal park when Mt. Vernon is guest here. The Maids will play National Electric Coil of Columbus in the afterpiece. The Maids meet Danville at 8:30 at the park tonight.

MILWAUKEE EXTENDS WIN STREAK TO 5

By The Associated Press

Five-game winning streaks are getting to be a habit with Milwaukee and the habit is paying off for the second-place Brewers in their chase to overtake pace-setting Indianapolis in the American Association.

Milwaukee fashioned its fourth five-game win streak of the season last night, defeating Toledo 7 to 1, to come within three games of the leaders. In the night's only other league game, Minneapolis defeated St. Paul, 6 to 3. It was the fourth successive defeat for the Saints in the Millers Nicollet park.

Norm Ozark's two run single in the fourth inning was the deciding blow as Milwaukee pushed across four runs.

Minneapolis' Bill Ayers gave up a dozen hits but was so effective in the pinches that 14 Saints were stranded. Lonnie Frey started the Miller's 11-hit attack with a homer.

Muncie and Springfield, O-I L. Leaders, Open Series Tonight

By The Associated Press

The Muncie and Springfield clubs—which have dominated the Ohio-Indiana baseball league this season—open a two game series tonight at Muncie. This weekend they play at Springfield.

Neither gained ground last night. Springfield split with last-place Richmond, taking the opener, 3-1, and losing the nightcap, 9-6. Muncie won its first game with fourth-place Portsmouth, 3-2, but lost the second, 6-4.

Technically, Muncie's Reds did add a little to their lead. They now have 646 percentage points to 644 for Springfield. Going into last night's games Muncie had 652 to 651 for the Giants.

In the night's other games, Newark and Marion continued their red-hot race for fifth place, while Lima fell behind slightly.

McEvoy Wins 7th

Newark, with Dick McEvoy scoring his second win in as many nights of relief pitching, turned back Lima, 6-5. Sal Sasso's deep fly to left scored Bob Ogle from third with the winning run. McEvoy now has won seven—all in relief.

Marion beat third-place Zanesville, 10-5. That left Newark two percentage points ahead of Marion. Marion's starter, Bill Adkins, had a 10-1 lead and two out in the last of the ninth. Then he was shelled from the mound.

Springfield's strikeout artist Joe Greco, pitched a one-hitter against Richmond in the seven-inning opener. Pete Swain, a Richmond newcomer, stopped the Giants in the nightcap with six hits. He won his first start last week, too—pitching a seven-hitter.

Mound Duel

Hal Ensley of Muncie and Em Daino of Portsmouth hooked up in a neat pitcher's battle in the first game last night. Ensley allowed one less hit—and won his seventh against two losses. Harold Valentine, up from the Troy, O., High school nine faded in the late innings to lose the nightcap. He allowed only three hits until the seventh.

HIGH SCORING MARKS COMMERCIAL PLAY

Six Teams Score Total of 85 Runs.

High scoring highlighted softball play in Commercial league No. 2 last night.

Six teams in the Wednesday night league combined to score 85 runs. Oswalt won in a race with Osgood, 18-16. Ohio Public Service did a job on Schio, 19-9 and Quaker Oats edged O A T 12-11.

The teams weren't backward on hits either, keeping the ol' mellow rollin for a total of 79 safeties. Nine circuit clouts made homers the rule, rather than the exception.

Zuey for Oswalt had a mighty fine night, knocking five for five and counting two round-trippers. Peters hit three for four, and Koeppen and Foley blasted four-baggers.

Thorpe, Zeisler and Heliac homered for Osgood.

Riley and Jacobs connected for four bases for O P S and nine bases on balls, five hit batters and bunched hits in the first and fifth innings for 15 runs were too much for the Schioans.

Quaker Oats downed O A T in an extra inning ball game scoring a pair of runs in the last of the ninth to overcome a 10-11 deficit and cop the win.

NCAA Olympic Track Tryouts Begin Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, June 17—Collegiate track and field athletes poured into Minneapolis from all other today, each determined to win a place in the final tryouts for the U. S. Olympic team by starting in the NCAA championships opening here tomorrow.

But with two of its stars on the ineligible list and at least three others suffering from one kind of injury or another, the 37th annual meet lost some of its luster even before it commenced.

Ruled ineligible on the eve of the championships were Harrison Dillard of Baldwin Wallace, the world's best hurdler and a solid Olympic favorite, and Bob Libera of San Jose State, winner of the NCAA javelin throw a year ago.

Hugh Willett of Southern California, chairman of the NCAA eligibility committee, ruled that both athletes had completed during three "varsity years"—all the association's laws allow.

Both will bid for a spot in the final tryouts in the National AAU meet at Milwaukee July 2 and 3. Like the NCAA meet, the AAU championships will serve as a semi-final for the last-ditch showdown scheduled at Evanston, Ill., July 9 and 10.

Ted Williams Batting .400 Despite Boudreau Shift, Night Baseball

Boston Slugger Has Perfect Day Against Tribe, Hits to Left Field

By The Associated Press

That second .400 mark, the goal that Ted Williams has set for himself, appears to be within striking distance, now that the splendid splinter has finally solved two of his biggest problems.

The mighty slugger of the Boston Red Sox, currently leading all major league batsmen with a cool .408, expressed doubt early this spring that he could top .350 because of two things—the 'Boudreau shift" and night baseball.

But the box scores show that Ted has hurdled these obstacles this season. In fact he overcame them so thoroughly that in addition to his pace-setting batting mark he also is the No. 1 man in the American league in hits, runs batted in and doubles. And he is second in home runs.

Has Perfect Day

Ted had a perfect day at bat yesterday, four for four. Three of his hits, two doubles and a homer, went to left field. The homer cleared the field fence for his 13th circuit blow. The fourth was a single to right.

The blows came against Boudreau's league leading Indians and helped the Red Sox defeat Cleveland and Bob Feller, 7-4. It was Feller's seventh loss against five victories. He hasn't won a game since May 19.

The Detroit Tigers ran their winning streak to six straight games with a 2-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in 11 innings. Young Art Houtteman, who has been losing some tough games for the Tigers, finally won a close one, outpitching Lefty Lou Brissie. The 24-year-old Philadelphia rookie had a one-hit shutout through the first eight innings.

Tigers Move Up

The victory moved the fourth place Tigers to within three games of the second place A's. They trail the third place New York Yankees by two.

The Yankees nipped the White Sox, 3-1, in Chicago to even the two-game series at one victory apiece. Allie Reynolds went the route for the first time since May 11. He allowed only seven hits in gaining his seventh victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into a tie with the Boston Braves for the National league lead when they trounced the New York Giants, 11-5, while the Braves were beaten by the Cubs 8-5, in Boston.

Home runs by Johnny Hopp and Wally Westlake, and four Giants errors, helped the Pirates.

Home runs by Ed Wasitus and Andy Pafko and some good relief pitching by Emil Kush enabled the Cubs to gain their first victory over the Braves in eight games this season.

Two night games were played. The Brooklyn Dodgers edged the Cincinnati Reds 4-3 and the St. Louis Browns nosed out the Washington Senators, 6-5.

Bobby Adams, Reds second baseman was injured in the fifth inning when Dodger Catcher Gil Hodges slid hard into him while breaking up a double play.

A scheduled night game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

Parshall Drives Maywood Winner

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 17—Don Scott, pacing star owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Proximity, the Verhust brothers' fast stepping mare from Victor, N. Y., triumphed in the two-heat $3,000 John L. Hervey Memorial trot, one of the special features of Grand Circuit week at Maywood park last night.

Driven by H. M. (Doc) Parshall, Urbana, Ohio, Don Scott won the mile and one-sixteenth event. In the mile event of the same race, Proximity, piloted by Whitney Dennison, Rochester, N. Y., won by half a length over Grand Parade.

The feature presentation of Grand Circuit week will be tomorrow night's $10,000 Preview Trot. Pronto Don, winner of 14 races in 16 starts last year, tops the field of eight horses.

Battle Royal Grappling Tonight

There will be plenty of action at the Marion Armory tonight when Promoter Fishbaugh presents one of the best Battle Royals to be seen at the local Break It-Off Hall of Torture. The five men signed for this "Mat Massacre" are all stars and have appeared here before. Here are the five who will climb into the ring at the same time—Jack Terry, Renee LaBell, Irish McGee, Rod Fenton and Eddie Williams.

The first to get pinned can take a shower, the next two cut return for the semi-final bout and the last two will be the two hour main event. The prelim starts at 8:30, no advance in prices for this top attraction. Call 2745 after six for the best reservations.—Ad.

Brooks Again Beat Redlegs in Ninth

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN, June 17—Victims of their second successive ninth inning defeat, the Cincinnati Reds took one more crack at the Brooklyn Dodgers today.

And Manager Johnny Neun of the Reds intended to crack with "The Whip" Ewell Blackwell, who topped the National league last year but is sporting only a three win-five loss record so far this season. Manager Leo Durocher and the Bums planned to use Joe Hatton, a five-game winner.

The Dodgers made it seven victories in eight starts against Cincinnati last night when Carl Furillo angled with the bases loaded and the score tied. Marvin Rackley scored to make it 4-3 and end the game.

Ralph Branca pitched seven and two-thirds innings of no-hit ball before Johnny Wyrostek smacked a two-run homer in the eighth to tie the score. Corbett followed with a single for the Reds' only hits. It was Branca's seventh victory.

Kent Peterson took over the mound in the eighth after Johnny Vander Meer had been lifted for a pinch hitter. He was charged with the loss, granting two hits in one and one-third innings. It was his sixth loss.

Bob Feller Fails Against Red Sox

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 17—The Cleveland Indians still held their three-game first-place lead today but the big question was how long they could remain there while Bob Feller continued his losing ways.

The Tribe's ace stopper hasn't won a game since May 19, and absorbed his fifth straight defeat yesterday as the Boston Red Sox pounded out a 7 to 4 win.

Since May 19 Feller has started six times, has been knocked out of the box and defeated on five occasions.

Starting against the Red Sox yesterday for the second time in a week, he gave up two runs in the first inning, another in the third and four in the seventh when Ted Williams and Bobby Doerr slammed homers.

Williams actually sounded the death knell for the Boudreau shift by hitting to left field three times. After a first inning single, he twice doubled to left and hit his home run over the left field fence 365 feet from the plate. He walked on his other appearance at the platter for a perfect day.

Joe Dobson held the Indians to only three hits in the first seven frames but tired in the eighth and ninth. He gave up three hits and two runs in the eighth and another run on a single and three walks in the ninth before being relieved by Dave (Boo) Ferriss.

Now Jersey Joe Says Louis Ran Away from Him

By The United Press

GRENLOCH N J June 17—Jersey Joe Walcott today came up with the most sensational development in his relations with Joe Louis since the Brown Bomber was stretched out on the canvas in their Dec 5 fight

He accused Louis of running away from him

"Up to now I've let Louis get the talking about running," Walcott said "But there were two times in our first fight where you would have to call in the FBI and a bloodhound to catch him"

The Challenger said Louis ran from him in the fourth round after he got up off the floor and again in the ninth Louis was unwilling to mix it up on the ropes and backed away fast.

Meanwhile the two rival camps also got into a rhubarb over who uses the most vaseline

Marcana, Miles Louis manager said at the Pompton Lake, N J camp that he will appeal to boxing commission chairman Eddie Eagan to prevent Walcott from using vaseline and oil on his arms and legs Walcott's trainer Dan Florsheim replied "there was enough grease on Louis face to french fry a bushel of potatoes His handlers must have thought the stuff was shaving cream"

TWO-DAY FORD SHOWING SET

Marion Agency Schedules Display for Friday and Saturday.

Eddie Steele, Marion Ford dealer, will open what is described as one of the largest displays of new model cars and trucks ever introduced at one time in this district, in a two-day showing starting tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. The exhibit will be in progress from 8 until far into the night both Friday and Saturday.

As his part in presenting the new 1949 model Ford car to the public Mr. Steele will display on the showroom floor three of the new passenger cars and 12 different models of the new Ford line of trucks, while all visitors to the exhibit will have the opportunity to test the "ride" of the new passenger cars by taking a ride in one of a large fleet of new Ford demonstrators Mr. Steele will have available for this purpose.

His sales and service staff numbering 43 persons, will be present to answer questions concerning the entire line of cars and trucks and to demonstrate all new features.

Drivers have been secured for the demonstration cars so visitors to the introductory showing may see how the cars perform while riding as passengers.

Starting next Monday, all customers to the Ford service department here will be provided a demonstration car which they may drive to test operation of the new car while at the wheel.

The new Ford cars include two distinct lines of body types each of which will be available with the choice of the 100 horsepower V-8 or 95 horsepower six-cylinder engine. Mr Steele reports that the new cars will be available in the custom line and Ford line. The custom line will include the two-door sedan, four-door sedan, station wagon, and convertible six-passenger coupe while the Ford line offers the two-door sedan, four-door sedan and three-passenger coupe, the latter model being offered in the Ford line only.

Tomorrow's showing here will be coincident with the first nationwide display of the new models. Preview showings have been held here for police, press, radio, and insurance groups.

"April Star" Winner In Palomino Show

"April Star," year old palomino mare, owned by Mr. and Mrs Lawrence Welsh of Wayside Farms, Marysville road, won first place in the year-old class at the All-American Palomino Show at Eaton, O., June 12 and 13.

With her first win in this show, the largest palomino show east of the Mississippi, she is following in the hoof prints of her sire and dam who won reserve grand champion mare and reserve grand champion stallion at this same show in 1946.

Mr. and Mrs. Welsh have fond hopes of taking the year old prize next year with "April Showers," a full sister of "April Star" foaled April 11 of this year.

Grand champion mare at the Eaton show was from Austin, Texas and is valued at $5,000.

Deer Seen in Farm Meadow Near Waldo

M L Anderson of near Waldo reports seeing a deer on his farm just northeast of Waldo on Hoge road about 6 a m Monday. He was eating breakfast he said when he chanced to look out the window and saw the deer a doe standing in the meadow looking toward the house. It ran north across the field from Morrow county across the north boundary line of the farm and into the woods of Marion county.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — THE children have a fair argument against the grownups in America.

The kids are compelled by law to go to school to learn what the adults want to teach them. But there is no law to make the grownups go to a school and learn from the children. Yet there is much they could learn from the diaper-and-knickerbocker set.

Everybody in America, for example, might live longer by studying the lesson unintentionally given by two-year-old Kenneth Listman of the Bronx. This bouncing boy tumbled out his apartment window the other day, fell six floors, landed on the lawn with a dull thud and a small grunt—and got up and waddled off unhurt. He didn't even give a whimper of complaint.

Hal Boyle

How did he escape injury? Because he was relaxed, as all normal children in normal homes are.

But if little Kenneth should have a similar accident 20 years from now, after civilization had gone to work on him, what would happen? He would see death grinning up from the ground at him, his muscles would tighten in fear against the shock, and he'd be picked up in the same condition as a shattered pretzel.

ONLY A FEW ADULTS keep this life-saving virtue born in every child—the art of relaxation.

Most champions do. And that is one of the big secrets of why they are champions. They are coordinated because they have the priceless gift of relaxing in the middle of action. That's true of a race-horse like Citation, as it was of Charlie Schwab closing a multi-million dollar steel order. Or of Babe Ruth, with two strikes on him in a world series game, pointing to the bleachers and knocking the next ball for a home run right where he'd called it.

It's hard to win a wife or a golf match with a worried look. It's hard to win any game when you're fighting yourself as well as the other fellow. And you are fighting yourself when you forget to relax and worry divides your mind with self-doubt and fear.

A dog is worried when he doesn't have a bone to worry. Man, on the other hand, worries even if he has everything he needs to keep him from worry. He worries because he is afraid he can't keep what he has forever.

TENSION KILLS more people in the United States than anything except over-eating. And over-eating, in millions of cases, is nothing but a nervous expression of tension. They actually worry themselves fat at the dinner table.

Worry is the most contagious disease yet untamed by science, a worldwide plague spread by a bacillus invisible to any microscope ever invented—fear.

Are you going thru the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, high-strung, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

Building Biggest And Fastest Lake Erie Ship

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 1 — The biggest, fastest bulk ore ship on the Great Lakes, 668 feet long will be built in the Lorain yards of the American Shipbuilding Co., it announced today.

With construction scheduled to begin at once, the ore carrier should be ready before the opening of the 1950 navigation season, the company said.

About 600 men will be employed in work on the ship throughout construction. American Shipbuilding officials estimated. They declined to specify costs but marine circles have estimated ships of that size around $4,000,000 at present rates.

This marked the first new freighter construction for the Great Lakes since 1942, officials said.

Sale of New Autos Reaches 19 in Week

Sale of new cars nearly doubled in Marion county during the week ending June 15, according to records in the office of Calvin Oborn, clerk of courts. Sales last week were 19 new cars and four new trucks, the latter figure the same as for the week previous when ten new cars were sold. Figure for three weeks ago was 16 new cars and five new trucks.

WIGGLE THOSE TOES, GIRLS

By The United Press

CHICAGO — Dr. O. N. Woolman, a chiropodist, says women should buy stockings a half-size larger than their foot size to prevent foot trouble. Seven out of ten women wear stockings too small for them. He said they should be able to wiggle their toes freely.

SAYS MASARYK "LIQUIDATED"

Former Czech Staff Member Denies Report Minister a Suicide.

By MAJOR JOSEF HORAK
Former Czechoslovak General Staff Member

World Copyright 1948 by International News Service.)

LONDON, June 17 — I am wholly convinced that Jan Masaryk, former foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, did not commit suicide but was "liquidated" by the Communists

As a member of the military general staff, I had access to private information which showed that Masaryk did not end his own life, but that his body was placed in the courtyard of the foreign office in Prague after his death.

I knew Masaryk well I never will believe he was capable of ending his life by suicide

It was a clumsy Communist hoax to allege that he killed himself I saw the body later There were no marks such as a man would inevitably suffer if he jumped out of a window The face bore no signs of a violent end met in a death leap

My private information is that Masaryk was killed because he was preparing to deliver a denunciation of the Communist coup d etat.

Masaryk at first had tried to compromise in order to avoid bloodshed, but, in the end, he realized there could be no compromise with the Communists.

Gives Meeting Incidents

He made his decision, but he was killed before he could carry it out

I knew this charming and able statesman well, and I saw him frequently up until a few weeks of his death.

He was the god-father of my oldest boy, Vaclav

I first met him at a Czechoslovakian air force party in Wales during the war when I was attached to the RAF coastal command

As we talked I mentioned that my wife was expecting a baby and he immediately said he wanted to be god-father—because the baby would be the first child of the new Lidice which, even then, we were planning to rebuild

Our friendship grew from that incident, and I had several long talks with him before we left England

He was a big man, in every way and when he would put his hand on my shoulder and speak his thought about our country's future, I would myself find new hope springing from his confidence and faith.

As soon as I returned to Czechoslovakia, I called on him at the foreign office to enlist his aid in finding the surviving children of our village widows He readily agreed and said

"I am driving through Lidice this afternoon on a visit to my father's grave at Lang. I will stop and talk to the women."

Says Reds Knew Masaryk

I told him where they were staying at the nearby town of Kladno, and he called on them as he had promised He paused at Lidice on every subsequent visit to his father's burial place

In analyzing the so-called "Masaryk mystery," it is important to remember that the Communists understood Masaryk better than he understood himself

They knew that his political conscience would inevitably force him to break with them after they had seized power.

And, since they correctly estimated his popularity in the country, they wanted to avoid the consequences of such an act.

They tried unsuccessfully once before to kill him They would have accomplished their design, except for the fact that they decided to assassinate two other national Socialist leaders at the same time.

In September, 1947, three identical boxes containing trick explosives were sent through the mail to each of the intended victims The post office authorities became suspicious because of the similarity of the three parcels addressed to prominent men

The packages were turned over to police and Masaryk's life was saved He was careless of his own safety and would undoubtedly have opened any box delivered to him.

Harding 1938 Class To Hold Reunion

Plans are underway by a group of members of the 1938 graduating class of Harding High school for a ten-year reunion of the class to be held in August

Present plans are for the affair to be a basket picnic for class members and their families Sunday, Aug. 1, at Harrison-Smith park in Upper Sandusky An attempt has been made to contact all members of the class through the mail Any members of the class who have not been notified of plans for the reunion are asked to send their name and address to Don Utz at the Palace theater in Marion. Mr Utz is a member of the class. More than 300 persons made up the 1938 class

Serving on the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair are Mr and Mrs George Daugherty, Mrs Stewart Chancellor, George Griffiths, Richard Marshall, Mrs Ruth Leatherman Mrs Betty Karwin Miss Dorothy Cox Stephenson and Mr and Mrs Roy Stout.

Gambling Unchecked, City Attorney Quits

By International News Service

CHESAPEAKE, O., June 17— Chesapeake was without a city attorney today because of its gambling situation.

City Attorney William J Curry resigned because of what he said was the "sad plight" of Chesapeake and of Lawrence county

Curry an independent candidate for Lawrence county prosecutor in November was appointed on May 3, when he promised to do what he could to stop gambling in the county."

In resigning Curry stated "Some of our people feel gambling is advantageous to them from a business standpoint. It is a sad state of affairs when any group feels that it is necessary to condone that sort of thing."

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause backache, dizziness, nervousness, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen ankles, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Puppy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Puppy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I rest, I rest loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hallister that formula isn't for moss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

HEADQUARTERS FOR Storefront IDEAS

We have the materials and the experience to remodel your storefront or build a new one.

MAKE IT A VISUAL FRONT—the open type of storefront that makes your store a giant showcase. For extra attractiveness, the clear glass can be framed in sparkling, colorful Vitrolite® glass facing.

DESIGN IT TO BRING IN TRAFFIC—doors of Tuf-flex® tempered plate glass extend the open feeling of the front. Vitrolite on side walls can be extended back through the storefront. These color panels unite exterior and interior and lure lead eyes of shoppers inside.

PROVIDE IDENTIFICATION—striking effects can be achieved by having a contrasting color of Vitrolite laminated to the Vitrolite background. Your store name, its product or its trademark can be labeled on the front in this way.

Plate glass, Vitrolite, Tuf-flex doors, Thermopane® insulating glass, patterned glass—these and many other types of glass are in our stocks. We'll gladly help you and your architect or designer work out details for your store.

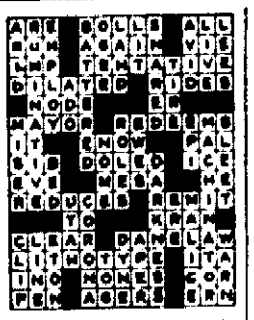
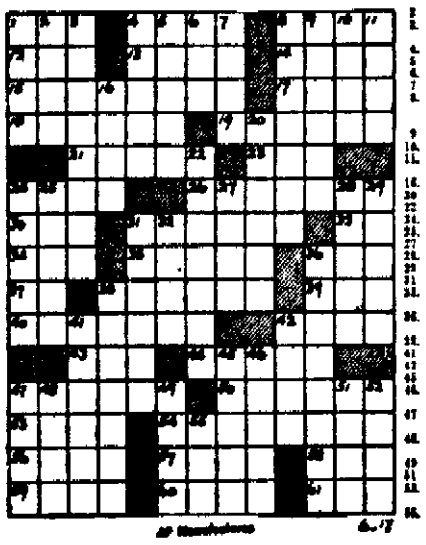
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle





TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

JOHN HERSEY, born June 17, 1914, made his big splash with "A Bell for Adano" as a novel, stage and screen play. He is author of a number of other books and was a World War II correspondent for Time magazine. Son of missionaries to China, he learned Chinese before English. After Yale and graduate work in England, he was secretary to Sinclair Lewis briefly.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The battle will be joined in Philadelphia any minute now and the whole city is seething with calm.

• • •

The managers of three candidates are in town to test the lights cameras and mikes and the make-up men will arrive Sunday with the stars and cast.

• • •

Dewey's headquarters will have a fashion show, two hours of music a day and free postcards. I understand Stassen will counter with a variety show, covered dish supper and bubble gum for all.

• • •

Vandenberg headquarters hasn't programmed anything. Just a big sign for the door which says "If you insist . . ."

• • •

The Taft people are very quiet. Like people expecting a long-distance call from Kate.

• • •

But I think we're going to be very comfortable here. The two strangers in my room look like nice fellows and have already let me match for the bed.

• • •

I lost but now they're going to let me match for the bill.

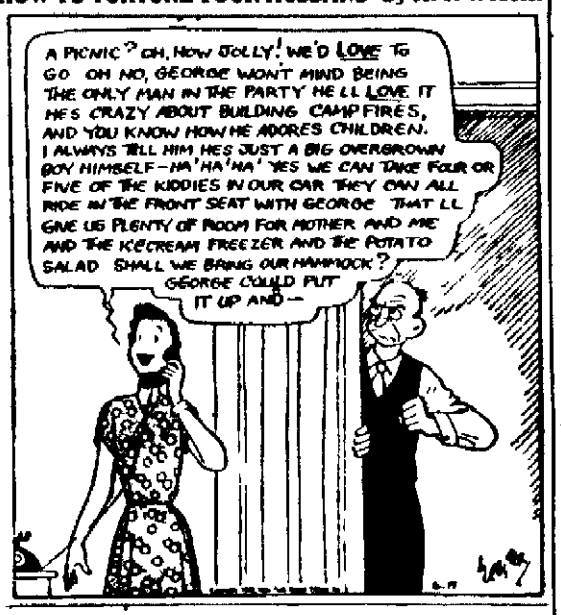
HOW TO TORTURE YOUR HUSBAND By H. T. Webster



A PICNIC? OH, HOW JOLLY! WE'D LOVE TO GO. OH NO, GEORGE WON'T MIND BEING THE ONLY MAN IN THE PARTY HE'LL LOVE IT. HE'S CRAZY ABOUT BUILDING CAMPFIRES, AND YOU KNOW HOW HE ADORES CHILDREN. I ALWAYS TELL HIM HE'S JUST A BIG OVERGROWN BOY HIMSELF—HA'HA'HA' YES WE CAN TAKE FOUR OR FIVE OF THE KIDDIES IN OUR CAR THEY CAN ALL RIDE IN THE FRONT SEAT WITH GEORGE. THAT'LL GIVE US PLENTY OF ROOM FOR MOTHER AND ME AND THE ICECREAM FREEZER AND THE POTATO SALAD. SHALL WE BRING OUR HAMMOCK? GEORGE COULD PUT IT UP AND—
